```
1
                       UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
 2
                      CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
 3
               HONORABLE DAVID O. CARTER, JUDGE PRESIDING
 4
 5
     ALAN KEYES, PH.D., ET AL., 6 Plaintiffs, ) No. SACV 09-0082 DOC
 7 VS.
                                                 Item No. 6
 8
     BARACK H. OBAMA, et al., 9 Defendants.
10 11 12
13
                  REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS
14 Hearing on Motions
15
                          Santa Ana, California
                          Monday, July 13, 2009
16
17 18 19
     Debbie Gale, CSR 9472, RPR
20
     Federal Official Court Reporter
     United States District Court
21
     411 West 4th Street, Room 1-053
     Santa Ana, California 92701
22
     (714) 558-8141
23
24
     09cv0082 Obama 2009-07-13 Item 6
25
```

```
1 APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:
 2 FOR THE PLAINTIFFS:
 3
               ORLY TAITZ, DDS, ESQUIRE
 4 Defend Our Freedoms Foundation
               26302 La Paz
 5
               Suite 211
               Mission Viejo, California 92691
               (949) 683-5411
 6
 7
 8
     FOR THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA:
 9
               U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE 10
               UNITED STATES ATTORNEY'S OFFICE
               BY: DAVID A. DeJUTE
                     Assistant United States Attorney
11
               300 North Los Angeles Street 12
               Suite 7516
               Los Angeles, California 90012
13
                (213) 894-2574
14
     ALSO PRESENT:
15
               Charles Lincoln, Law Clerk for Ms. Taitz
16
17 18 19 20 21
22
23 24
25
```

Case: 09-56827 08/11/2010 Page: 3 of 60 ID: 7436277 DktEntry: 17-2

SACV 09-0082 DOC - 7/13/2009 - Item No. 6

1	INDEX
		D. 65
2	PROCEEDINGS	PAGE
3	Motion by Plaintiffs for Reconsideration of Order to Show Cause or, in the alternative, to Certify Question for Appeal	4
5	octorry gassors for represent
6
7
8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21
22
23 24
25

-	s	ANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, JULY 13, 2009
2	2	Item No. 6
	3	(9:50 a.m.)
09:49	1	THE COURT: Alan Keyes v. Barack Obama.
09:50	5	Who represents Alan Keyes?
09:50	5	MS. TAITZ: I am. I am, Your Honor.
09:50	7	THE COURT: Who are you?
09:50	3	MS. TAITZ: My name is Orly Taitz.
09:50)	THE COURT: Have a seat and pull the microphone
09:50 10	closer so	I can hear you.
09:50 1	L	MS. TAITZ: Yes.
09:50 12	2	THE COURT: You have a soft voice.
09:50 13	3	MS. TAITZ: Can you hear me now?
09:50 1	1	THE COURT: Yeah, I can hear you now.
09:50 15	5	MS. TAITZ: Can you hear me, Houston?
09:50 1 (THE COURT: Just like that ad, "Can you hear me
09:50 1	now?"
09:50 18	3	MS. TAITZ: I'm Orly Taitz. I'm a pro bono
09:50 19	attorney,	as well, and I'm representing Ambassador Keyes.
09:50 20)	THE COURT: Pleasure to meet you.
09:50 23	L	Who's with you today?
09:50 22	2	MR. LINCOLN: Law clerk. Charles Lincoln.
09:50 23	3	THE COURT: Nice meeting you. It's a pleasure.
09:50 2	1	And on behalf of Barack Obama?
09:50 25	5	MR. DeJUTE: Not on behalf of Barack Obama yet,

```
Your Honor.
         1
09:50
         2
                        On behalf of the United States, David A. DeJute, 09:50
         3
              Assistant U.S. Attorney.
09:50
         4
                        THE COURT: Okay. And where are you located?
09:50
         5
                        MR. DeJUTE: In Los Angeles at the U.S. Attorney's 09:50
              Office.
         6
09:50
         7
                        THE COURT: Okay. And once again your name, 09:50
         8 slowly.
09:50
         9
                        MR. DeJUTE: My first name is David. My last 09:50
09:50 10
              name, "DeJute," D-E, capital J-U-T-E.
        11
                        THE COURT: Thank you very much. Why don't you 09:51
09:51 12 have a seat also. Move the microphone closer.
                        This is a motion for reconsideration.
        13
09:51
        14
09:51
              really doesn't matter which party I hear from first.
        15
                        MS. TAITZ: First of all, I would like to object 09:51
        16 to the U.S. Attorney's Office representing Mr. Obama.
09:51
        17
              Mr. Obama was served as an individual. He was served on the 09:51
        18 inauguration date for something that was done before the 09:51
        19 election, specifically, obfuscating all of his vital 09:51 20 09:51 records.
        21
                        Mr. Obama has presented a computerized image of a 09:51
09:52
        22 short-form birth certificate. And, in spite of numerous 23 legal actions -- and to the best of my knowledge, there were 09:52
        24 over a hundred such actions -- Mr. Obama has never 09:52
        25 provided -- never consented to release of original records 09:52
```

```
or certified copies of the original records.
```

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

09:52

09:52

09:52

09:52

09:52

09:52

09:52

09:52

09:52

09:52

09:52

09:53

09:53

09:53

09:53

09:53

09:53

09:53

09:53

09:53

09:53

09:53

09:53

09:53

09:54

I have gathered statements from experts, one of them Sandra Ramsey Lines.

THE COURT: I'm sorry. Senator?

MS. TAITZ: Sandra Ramsey Lines. She's one of the top forensic document experts showing that there are numerous signs of forgery on the Certification of Live Birth that was presented on the internet.

THE COURT: Okay.

MS. TAITZ: The serial number is obliterated. For that reason alone, this piece of paper is worthless. It's a computer image of a worthless piece of paper because if there is no serial number it means absolutely nothing.

Aside from that, there are a number of statements from experts showing that there is forgery in that document.

I have additionally provided information in terms — from federal agent Mr. Steven Kaufman (phonetic) from Texas, showing that there are numerous signs of forgery in Certification of Live Birth — I'm sorry — in Selective Service Certificate of Mr. Obama.

I personally have filed several legal actions.

One of them was Lightfoot v. Bowen. One of the plaintiffs is right here. And every time when a subpoena for production of records was issued, Mr. Obama -- Mr. Obama's attorneys have filed a motion to quash any such subpoenas.

```
1
                        And Your Honor's -- from what I understand, you 09:54
         2 were the judge that decided that there is a prevailing right of public to know -- I believe it was in Bob Citron's case.
09:54
         3
09:54
         4
              If the public has a right to know -- 09:54
         5
                        THE COURT: I got reversed by the California
09:54
         6
              Supreme Court, by the way.
09:54
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                    Well, they were wrong.
09:54
         8
                        THE COURT:
                                     It involved transcripts concerning the 09:54
         9 bankruptcy, and -- 09:54
09:54
        10
                        MS. TAITZ: Exactly.
        11
                        THE COURT: -- as an aside, since you raised that, 09:54
09:54
        12 it was a very interesting case. Because I'm well aware that 13
              Grand Jury transcripts are normally kept secret.
                                                                   I thought,
09:54
              though, that the -- there have to, on occasion, be great 09:54
        14 15 exceptions. And the public has to have transparency. And 09:54
        16 what was of great concern to this Court was that the whole 09:54
        17 process involving the auditor/controller and these reverse 09:55 derivatives in the Grand Jury process had lead to a 09:55
        18 19 resolution, a plea bargain of this case right before alleged 09:55
09:55 20 indictments were to be handed down involving Merrill Lynch.
        21
                        MS. TAITZ: And I can tell you, if the issue of 09:55
09:55
        22 derivatives would have been transparent then, since '94, 23
              maybe we wouldn't be going into bankruptcy today.
09:55
        24
                        THE COURT: It's amazing how that thought occurred 09:55
        25 to me the other day; that we're right back in a circle, with 09:55
```

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

09:55

09:55

09:55

09:55

09:55

09:55

09:56

09:56

09:56

09:56

09:56

09:56

09:56

09:56

09:56

09:56

09:56

09:56

09:57

09:57

09:57

09:57

09:57

09:57

09:57

8

a tremendous amount of the County's investments, over 18 percent in, if not reverse derivatives, something that is not understandable.

Now, I have no comment on that. It's not in front of me. But that's why transparency is so important.

MS. TAITZ: Exactly. And specifically on the issue of Mr. Obama's legitimacy for presidency. Moreover, I have worked with Mr. Neal Sankey, S-A-N-K-E-Y. He is a licensed investigator with 20 years of experience with Scotland Yard and over 15 years of experience in this country. And the fact that is the most troubling in this case is that, according to national databases — the most well-accepted database is LexisNexis and ChoicePoint — there are 140 different addresses all over the country for "Barack Hussein Obama" and those addresses are connected to 39 different social security numbers.

And what is even more troubling, that the social security number that is used most commonly is one that starts with 046. Mr. Obama has used it in Somerville, Massachusetts, when he went to Harvard. He used it in Chicago, and he used it in Washington DC. This social security number was issued in the state of Connecticut, even though Mr. Obama has never lived in the state of Connecticut. And even more troubling, it shows that the owner of the social security is 119 years old, which means either he's very well preserved, or we have a serious problem here that this might be a social security number of a deceased person.

Aside from that, Mr. Obama's grandmother, Madelyn Payne Dunham was a volunteer in Oahu Circuit Court Probate Department.

THE COURT: In Oahu?

1

2

3

4

5

6

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

09:57

09:57

09:57

09:57

09:57

09:57

09:57

09:57

09:57

09:58

09:58

09:58

09:58

09:58

09:58

09:58

09:58

09:58

09:58

09:58

09:58

09:58

09:59

09:59

09:59

MS. TAITZ: Circuit Court, Probate Department.

And that's where one can obtain social security numbers of the deceased individuals.

So this is an extremely important issue for the national security of this country as a whole.

Aside from that, the state of Hawaii has never produced a copy of Mr. Obama's birth certificate due to the fact that Mr. Obama refused to sign a consent for such a copy. All they stated: That there is a document on file.

And the problem with that, that is — the State of Hawaii is unique. Like no other state in the nation, they have a Statute No. 338 that allows foreign-born children of Hawaiian residents to obtain Hawaiian birth certificates. Moreover, 338-5 allows one to obtain a birth certificate based on a statement of one relative only, without any corroborative evidence from any hospital. And as a matter of fact, what Mr. Obama has posted on the internet, it's a document that he obtained only last year during the campaign that shows no signatures, zero signatures, no name of the 09:59

```
1
         2 hospital, no name of the doctor, zero corroborating evidence 09:59
         3 that he was really born in this country.
09:59
         4
                        And since State of Hawaii allows foreign-born 09:59
         5 children to get such birth certificates -- 09:59
                        THE COURT: Out of curiosity, I haven't delved into the merits. We're still in the procedural phase. And 7
         6 09:59
09:59
         8 this is a curiosity. It has nothing to do with this motion, 09:59
         9 in a sense.
09:59
09:59
        10
                        Senator McCain, his opponent, was also born outside of the United States.
        11
09:59
09:59
        12
                        MS. TAITZ: There is a difference because he was 13 born in the zone of Panama Canal, which was a U.S. territory 09:59
        14 10:00
              at the time.
        15
                        THE COURT: Whereas, Kenya would not be, or 10:00
        16
              Indonesia or whatever?
10:00
        17
                        MS. TAITZ: Not as far as I know -- unless it's 10:00
              going to be a 58th state.
10:00
        18 19
                                     So it's not the personage; it's not
                        THE COURT:
10:00
10:00 20
              the parents, because there's no contesting that Obama's mother is a United States citizen? It's the location 21
10:00
10:00
        22 outside -- 23
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                     Well -- 10:00
        24
                                    -- the confines of the United States
                        THE COURT:
10:00
```

or the territories of the United States, the question of 25

10:00

whether he was born in Kenya?

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:00

10:00

10:00

10:00

10:00

10:00

10:00

10:00

10:00

10:00

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:01

10:02

MS. TAITZ: Well, there are two questions

Your Honor. You're right in that the mother indeed was a U.S. citizen. Nobody questions that. You're right in that the question — there is a serious question as to

Mr. Obama's place of birth. As a matter of fact, the Ambassador of Kenya confirmed that he was born in Kenya in an interview that was recorded.

But there is yet another issue, and that's meaning of what is natural-born citizen. If you recall, just last year, when Senator Leahy has announced a nonbinding Resolution 511 that was signed by all 100 senators, it was stated that Mr. Obama -- I'm sorry -- Mr. McCain is a natural-born citizen. And they used two-prong test.

Because (A) he was born in the zone of Panama Canal, the U.S. Territory; but (B) both -- both of his parents were U.S. citizens. They didn't state at least one. And I have actually traced the meaning -- what is the meaning, because, as -- as you know, Constitution does not provide exact meaning of natural-born citizen.

And I have a website. I have a lot of followers. Get something like eight and a half million hits every month. So I ask the followers to send "Black" Dictionaries going to first edition. And then I also got Vattel's "Law of Nation," because I was trying to ascertain what was the meaning of the natural-born citizen at the time the Constitution was written.

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:02

10:03

10:03

10:03

10:03

10:03

10:03

10:03

10:03

10:03

What I found out, that Black Law Dictionary, as many people are quoting today, didn't exist for some hundred years until after Constitution was written. What existed, and what was widely used by the populous, was "The Law of Nation." It's a legal treatise written by a well-known advocate, well-known attorney and diplomat Emmerich de Vattel, which states that natural-born citizen is one when is born in the country to parents, both of them citizens of this country.

THE COURT: And yet at the time of our first President, or at least in George Washington, a significant number of persons who could have become president or serve in this country did not have parents born here.

MS. TAITZ: Well, you are right about that.

However, the Constitution provides a grandfather clause. As you recall, it states a natural-born citizen is one -- I'm sorry -- that the President has to be either natural-born citizen, or citizen at the time of adoption of the Constitution. So they fit the clause. And I guess, unless Mr. Obama is over 200 years old, he's got a problem. He's close. He's 119, but not over 200.

THE COURT: Well, most of the Presidents look like they've aged that much in office. Now, let me hear from your opposition for that moment. I'm going to give you 10:03

```
1
         2 another opportunity.
10:03
         3 Counsel?
10:03
10:03
         4
                        MR. DeJUTE: Thank you, Your Honor.
         5
                        THE COURT: Pleasure. Why don't you -- well, you 10:03
         6 can be seated also, if I can hear you from that microphone, 10:03
         7 or you can use the -- 10:03
         8
                        MR. DeJUTE: I don't think well seated, your 10:03
         9 honor.
10:03
10:03
        10
                        THE COURT: All right.
        11
                        MR. DeJUTE: With respect to -- just briefly -- 10:03
10:03 12 opposing counsel's statements, you know, she said a lot of I'm aware of her website. I'm aware of the 13 facts.
10:04
        14 10:04
              opposition's website.
        15
                        THE COURT: Maybe I should get on it?
10:04
        16
                        MR. DeJUTE: Perhaps, Your Honor. Although -- 10:04
        17
                        THE COURT: I'm just kidding you, Counsel.
10:04
                        MR. DeJUTE: -- I think that it's fair to say 10:04
        18 19 that -- from my understanding, there is no factual validity 10:04
        20 10:04
              in what she's been saying. I've done a lot of reading back and forth.
        21
10:04
10:04
        22
                        THE COURT:
                                     Isn't that why we're here? Right now, 23
              we're here on a procedural process, in a sense.
10:04
        24
                                     Well, I think I agree with you.
                        MR. DeJUTE:
10:04
        25 reason we're here is not to talk about the substance of the 10:04
```

```
1 case.
10:04
         2
                        THE COURT: Correct.
10:04
         3
                        MR. DeJUTE: We're here to talk about whether 10:04
         4
              Barack Obama, in his individual capacity, was served.
10:04
         5
                        You know, Dr. Taitz suggests that -- 10:04
         6
                        THE COURT: Now, just a moment. I want to cut 10:04
         7 through a lot of this. We could spend months on whether he 10:04
         8 was properly served or not. We could spend months.
10:04
         9 this service took place in Illinois?
10:04
10:04
        10
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                     No.
                                          Washington DC, Your Honor.
        11
                        THE COURT:
                                     Washington DC?
10:04
10:04
        12
                        MR. DeJUTE: Well, if I could just interpose one 13 comment?
10:05
10:05
        14
                        THE COURT: Yeah.
                        MR. DeJUTE: Dr. Taitz misspoke when she said he 10:05
        15 16 was served on inauguration day. The declaration that she 10:05
        17 submitted, with respect to her motion, states that service 10:05 was attempted on February 10th, you know, well after he was 10:05
        18 19 inaugurated and at the White House.
10:05
10:05
        20
                        THE COURT: A curiosity: Between the two of you, 21
              why wasn't service perfected before the inauguration?
10:05
10:05
        22
                         In other words -- hold on for just a second.
        23
              We've got all day. We've got all night. Okay? And it may 10:05
        24 have nothing to do with anything. But if I didn't want a 10:05
        25
              President to come into office, and I thought that that 10:05
```

```
1 person did not have the legal right to be President of the 10:05
         2
              United States, why wouldn't I file prior to inauguration to 10:05
         3
              stop the harm?
10:05
         4
                        MS. TAITZ: And I sure did, Your Honor. I filed 10:05
         5 numerous legal actions prior to inauguration. One was filed 10:05
         6 in November. It was -- 10:05
                        THE COURT: Just a moment. Where?
10:06
         8
                        MS. TAITZ: In the State of California, in the 10:06
         9
              Supreme Court of the State of California.
10:06
10:06
        10
                        THE COURT:
                                    Just a moment. Why?
        11
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                     That was -- Lightfoot v. Bowen was 10:06
10:06
        12
              filed to stop certification of the electoral votes.
                                                                       Ιt
        13 was -- "Bowen," as you know, Secretary of State -- 10:06
10:06
        14
                        THE COURT: Just a moment. Why didn't you go to 15 10:06
              Washington DC and file it?
        16
                        See, what I'm worried about is that there are a 10:06
        17 lot of places in the country that can accept service on 10:06
        18 behalf of the United States. But there's nothing like 10:06
        19
              Washington DC to get this case above the radar; in other 10:06
        20 10:06
              words, so people are aware of it.
        21
                        MS. TAITZ: Oh, I went to Washington DC.
10:06
10:06
        22 matter of fact, I reached the Supreme Court of the 23
              United States, and Chief Justice John Roberts agreed to hear 10:06
        24 my case in conference. He distributed Lightfoot v. Bowen 10:06
        25 for conference of all nine justices.
10:06
```

```
1
                        THE COURT:
                                    What date?
10:07
         2
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                    Uh, well, I filed in November, but he 10:07
         3 scheduled it for January the 23rd.
10:07
         4
                        THE COURT:
                                    Oh, I see.
10:07
         5
                        MS. TAITZ: And the issue there was that the case 10:07
         6
              was right there on the docket before the inauguration; and 10:07
         7
              then the next day after inauguration, the case disappeared.
10:07
         8
              Somebody erased it. And I have confronted Justice Scalia 10:07 9 when he was -- 10:07
10:07
        10
                        THE COURT:
                                     Thank you very much. We'll come back Then, Counsel, please proceed.
        11 10:07
              to vou.
10:07
        12
                        MR. DeJUTE: Thank you.
        13
                        With respect to that last point, Your Honor:
10:07 is this case here and not in Washington DC? Dr. Taitz has 10:07
        14 15 suggested that she's filed other cases. One involved the 10:07
        16
              Pennsylvania Democratic primary, dismissed on standing, 10:07
        17 because the individual plaintiff was not harmed. Another 10:07
              one in -- somewhere in the East Coast with a retired 10:07
        18 19
              Lieutenant Colonel, because he was concerned that he 10:07
10:07 20 wouldn't properly be able to serve his Commander-in-Chief, 21 again, dismissed on standing. Looked at the website, and 10:07
10:07
        22 the suggestion was made, "Let's find a candidate."
        23
              Ambassador Keyes was a candidate in the California primary 10:08
        24 election. And so the suggestion would be, "we can get past 10:08
              the standing issue if we can find a viable candidate who ran 25
10:08
```

```
1 against Barack Obama with the allegation that 10:08
         2
             President Obama is not eligible under Article II." 10:08
         3
                        THE COURT: I see.
10:08
         4
                        MR. DeJUTE: We could talk all day about the 10:08
         5 facts, Your Honor. And it's easy to make, you know, 10:08
             negative aspersions. It's hard to disprove them when we're 6
10:08
         7 here on, you know, an Order to Show Cause why the case 10:08
         8 shouldn't be dismissed without effecting proper service.
10:08
         9
                        It's clear Your Honor doesn't like to stand on 10:08
10:08
        10 technicalities. And we're prepared for a substantive 11 discussion. But I think we're entitled to be served 10:08
10:08 12 properly first.
        13
                        I think Your Honor's previous orders suggested the 10:08
        14 10:08 method by which the United States or Barack Obama proceed 15 properly under Rule 4(i). I don't think there can be any 10:09
        16 serious question that the lawsuit is suing an officer of the 10:09
        17
             United States in his official capacity. The lawsuit seeks 10:09
        18 to declare Barack Obama ineligible to be President, and 10:09
        19 thereby prevent him from continuing in office. He's not an 10:09
        20 officer of the United States. He's "the" officer of the 10:09
             United States. And I think he's entitled to service in that 21
10:09
10:09
        22 capacity.
                         And I can assure you the United States Attorney's 23
             Office for the Central District has never been served with 10:09
        24 this matter. On that ground alone, effective service has 10:09
        25 not been made.
10:09
```

```
THE COURT: The United States Attorney's Office, 1
10:09
         2 though, could be served in Los Angeles. It could be served 10:09
         3 here in Orange County, couldn't they?
10:09
         4
                        MR. DeJUTE: I'm not sure if it could be served in 10:09
         5
             Orange County. I believe so. I know it -- for certain, it 10:09
         6 could be served in Los Angeles.
10:09
         7
                        THE COURT: What I'm driving at is this. I'll 10:09
         8 come back to what I just said to prior counsel.
10:09
         9
                        The law abhors closed courtroom doors. And the 10:10
10:10
        10 process and technicality of how counsel get here can be 11 exacerbating. And I intend on that prior case to cut 10:10
10:10
        12 through that nonsense. And I intend on this case to cut 13 through that nonsense.
10:10
        14
                        MR. DeJUTE: I'm not surprised, Your Honor.
10:10
        15
                        THE COURT: There's no reason that this case can't 10:10
        16 be here, or Washington DC, or wherever. I don't care where 10:10
        17 it is. By the same token, it sounds to me like there hasn't 10:10
        18 been a forum for this for some significant period of time.
10:10
        19
                        And somehow there has to be a forum someplace.
10:10 20 10:10
             Now, how are we going to accomplish that?
        21
                        MS. TAITZ: Your Honor -- 10:10
10:10
        22
                        THE COURT: No. Believe it or not, I wasn't 23 speaking to you. I'll come back to you in just a moment.
10:10
        24
             And when I want to hear from you, I'll look at you and 10:10
        25
                      I'm not smiling right now.
10:10 smile.
```

```
1
                        MR. DeJUTE: He's not smiling at me either.
10:10
         2
                         I think I can answer the question, Your Honor.
10:10
         3
                         THE COURT: No, no. I've done this on so many 10:10
         4
              cases:
                      Why can't she simply serve you today in court?
10:11
                        MR. DeJUTE: Because I'm not authorized to accept 5 10:11
              service.
         6
10:11
                         THE COURT: Well, go get somebody who is.
10:11
         8
                        MR. DeJUTE: Well, the people that are authorized 10:11
         9 to accept service -- 10:11
10:11
        10
                        THE COURT:
                                     Do you see what I'm hearing? I'm 11 hearing a big run-around, a big circle.
10:11
10:11
        12
                        MR. DeJUTE: Uh --
                        THE COURT: No. Hold on for a second.
        13
10:11
10:11
        14
                        You can go get somebody in here.
        15
                        And you can serve him.
10:11
        16
                        And then we can cut through whether it's 10:11
        17
              Pennsylvania, Washington DC -- this is taking too much time.
10:11
        18
              And this is taxpayer money. This isn't your money; this is 10:11
        19 taxpayer money we're spending right now. And this is a 10:11
10:11 20 process and procedure that's going to come to an end.
        21
                        Who's authorized to accept service?
10:11
10:11
        22
                        MR. DeJUTE: The civil clerk.
        23
                        THE COURT: Just a moment.
10:11
        24
                          (Court and court clerk confer.)
10:11
        25
                                      They're authorized downstairs to 10:11
                         THE COURT:
```

```
1 accept service. Go serve 'em.
10:11
         2
                        MS. TAITZ: Are you -- 10:11
         3
                        THE COURT: Because, if you don't, what's going to 10:11
         4 happen is we're going to end up getting involved in this 10:11
         5 continuing process of whether this was valid service or not.
10:11
         6
              And you're gonna end up litigating process and procedure for 10:12
         7
              the term of this administration.
10:12
         8
                        So if you want to get to the merits between the 10:12
         9 two of you, just get proper service. And serve 10:12
10:12
        10 downstairs -- and they're authorized to take it -- and do it 11 10:12
              now.
10:12
        12
                        Now, if you don't -- if you want to spend your time going through this process, then you can come back and 13
10:12
        14 visit me every week if you would like to, and we'll have lot 10:12 15
              of hearings.
10:12
        16
10:12
                        Now, you continue on.
10:12
        17
                        MR. DeJUTE: Well, I think it's time for me to say: I concur with Your Honor.
10:12
        18 19
                        THE COURT: Yeah. Now, let me hear from your 10:12
10:12 20 opposition 'cause I'm smiling at her.
        21
                        I'm just kidding you, Counsel. Now, Counsel, your 10:12
10:12
        22 turn.
        23
                        MS. TAITZ: Well, since you are smiling at me now, 10:12
        24
              I would continue on the issue of taxpayer's money.
10:12
        25 whole point is Mr. Obama does not get to use our taxpayer's 10:12
```

```
1 money to cover up -- 10:12
         2
                        THE COURT: No, no, Counsel. I'm not going to let 10:12
         3
                             This is a waste of time. You could properly you go there.
10:13
         4 serve -- and I'm trying to help you cut through the 10:13
         5 bureaucratic nonsense. You can have authorized service that 10:13
         6 can take place in this building today.
10:13
         7
                        If you want to continue procedurally, I won't cut 10:13
         8 you off again. But I can guarantee you that process is 10:13
         9 gonna be almost never ending, because you've already failed.
10:13
10:13
        10
             You failed in Pennsylvania.
        11
                        MS. TAITZ: I never filed in Pennsylvania.
10:13
                        THE COURT: You failed in -- 10:13
        12
        13
                        (To the Court Reporter:) When I'm speaking, 10:13
        14 10:13
             you'll take me.
        15
                        You've failed in Washington. And I'm offering you 10:13
        16
             a vehicle and avenue to have this resolved on the merits.
10:13
        17
             Now, you're so used to doing battle, you're about to do 10:13
        18 battle with me. I'd suggest you don't, and I suggest you 10:13
        19
                           So I'm going to take a recess. You're going to rethink it.
10:13
10:13 20 go calm down and go think about this. If you still want to proceed in this fashion, so be it.
        21
10:13
10:13
        22
                        MS. TAITZ: May I respond?
        23
                        THE COURT: No, not now. I'm going to take a 10:13
        24 recess, so you have a chance. I've got all day. In other 10:13
        25
```

words, I'm not pushing you out of court.

10:13

```
1
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                     Well, can I talk to the U.S. Attorney?
10:13
         2
                        THE COURT:
                                     We're in recess. We'll be back in 10:13
         3
              10 minutes.
10:13
         4
                          (Recess held at 10:13 a.m.)
10:13
         5
                          (Proceedings resumed at 10:25 a.m.)
10:25
         6
                        THE COURT: We're back on the record. Let me 10:25
         7 suggest to both of you a process that might get to the 10:25 merits of this.
         8
10:25
         9
                        I'm smiling at you.
10:25
10:25
        10
                        On January 20th, 2009, at 3:26 p.m. you brought suit against Defendant Obama, Condoleezza Rice in her 11 10:25 capacity as the former Secretary of State, Robert Mueller in 10:25 12 13 his capacity as the Director of the Federal Bureau of 10:25
        14
10:26
              Investigation, and Michael Hager as the former Director of 15 the Office of Personnel Management.
10:26
        16
                        You've alleged that Obama does not meet the 10:26
        17 qualifications required for the Office of the President, as 10:26
        18 specified by Article II, Section 1, Clause [5], of the 10:26
        19
              United States Constitution. More specifically, you've 10:26
        20 10:26 alleged that the defendant has not shown that he is a natural-born citizen of the United States.
        21
10:26
10:26
        22
                        And the way we're proceeding, we're never going to 23 get to that issue, or at least it's going to take an 10:26
        24 abhorrent amount of time. And if you're really interested 10:26
        25 in this issue, I'm actually showing you a kindness, a way to 10:26
```

```
1 get this before a Court quickly, rather than the way that 10:26
         2 this is proceeding.
10:26
         3
                        MS. TAITZ: May I respond?
10:26
         4
                        THE COURT: No, not yet. You've got all night, 10:26
         5 believe it or not. You can have until 8:00 o'clock tonight, 10:26
         6 for all I care, so there's no rush. Okay?
10:26
         7
                        You've argued that there's evidence to show that 10:26
         8 the President was actually born in Kenya and not Hawaii, 10:26
         9 thus making him ineligible to be President of the 10:26
10:26
        10
              United States.
        11
                        You've also argued that the President was a 10:26
10:27
        12 citizen of Indonesia and he's not gone through the proper 13 immigration procedures to regain his United States 10:27
        14 citizenship. In order words, you pointed the Court to two 10:27
        15 different countries potentially that he was either born or a 10:27
        16 citizen of.
10:27
        17
                        In the lawsuit, you appear to be -- the issue 10:27 appears to be the issuance of an -- well, your primary 10:27
        18 19 objective appears to be the issuance of an injunction 10:27
10:27
        20 requiring the President to present any and all documentation that he is a natural-born citizen of the United States -- 21 10:27
10:27
        22 and you've ably argued today that that's never been 23 forthcoming to you, frustratingly so -- and, if he's unable 10:27
        24 to prove citizenship, to have him removed from office.
10:27
        25
10:27
                        So if there's an import to this, if there's a
```

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:27

10:27

10:27

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:28

10:29

10:29

danger, then it would appear to me that you want to accomplish that as quickly as possible, not what's happening now in this procedural time-consuming circle that everybody seems to be going in.

Now, you specifically plead for relief in the form of declaratory relief, where the Court will determine whether or not the President is a natural-born citizen of the United States within the definition of the U.S. Constitution; second, a stay of the January 20th, 2009, Inauguration of the President due to plaintiffs' substantial likelihood of success on the merit — which has already passed now, and getting older; a written mandamus requiring Defendants Rice, Hager, and Mueller to produce or compel documents proving the President's current citizenship; and attorneys fees and costs of the suit.

In the motion before the Court, you've stated that you're dismissing Counts 2 and 3 of the Complaint, and dismissing all the defendants, except the President. And I'll ask you about that in a moment, courteously, to make sure that's still your position.

MS. TAITZ: Yes.

THE COURT: On May 12th, this Court issued an Order to Show Cause for lack of prosecution, as the Court had not received proof of service on various defendants in this suit. On May 18th, plaintiffs' filed proof of service on the President, through Maryann McKernian (phonetic), as I 10:29

```
1
         2 understand it, who's a mail clerk in Streamwood, Illinois -- 10:29
         3
                        MS. TAITZ: No.
10:29
         4
                        THE COURT: -- who's allegedly authorized to 10:29
         5 accept service on behalf of the Department of Justice.
10:29
         6
                        MS. TAITZ: No, no. Uh, she is not a mail clerk.
10:29
         7
             She went to the White House -- 10:29
         8
                        THE COURT: Oh, I'm going to get there. Believe 10:29
         9 it or not, I read this stuff. Okay. So hang with me for a 10:29 10 moment.
10:29
                        After service, it's my understanding that she 11 10:29
10:29 12 literally went to the White House. Now, this gets even more 13
                        That she gets on a plane and she flies to the bizarre:
10:29
             White House, and she gives this to a Secret Service agent.
10:29
        14 15
                        MS. TAITZ: Yes.
10:29
                        THE COURT:
        16
                                    That's a baffling process, in and of 10:29
        17 itself: To have somebody get on a plane and give it to a 10:29
10:29
        18 Secret Service agent.
        19
                        Now, on June 1st, 2009, the Court notified
10:30
10:30 20 plaintiffs that their purported proof of service was deficient under 4(i)(3), hereinafter "Rule 4(i)(3)." 21
10:30
10:30
        22
                        And it states, Subsection (3): 23
                        "Officer or Employee Sued Individually.
10:30
        24
                        "To serve a United States officer or employee sued 10:30
        25 in an individual capacity for an act or omission occurring
```

10:30

```
in connection with duties performed on the United States' 1 10:30
         2
              behalf, whether or not the officer or employee is also sued 10:30
         3
              in an official capacity, a party must serve the 10:30
         4
              United States and also serve the officer or employee under 10:30
         5
              Rule 4(e), (f), or (g)."
10:30
         6
                         In this motion you've argued that "the above 10:30
         7 portion of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure is inapplicable 10:30
         8 as Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 4(e), hereinafter 4(e), 10:30
         9 should be applied instead." 10:30
10:31
        10
                        This provision states in subsection (e):
                         "Serving an Individual Within a Judicial District 11 10:31
10:31 12 of the United States.
                         "Unless federal law provides otherwise, an 13
10:31
10:31
        14 individual, other than a minor and incompetent person or 15 person who's waiver has been filed, may be served in a 10:31 judicial district of the United States by: 16
10:31
        17
                         "First, following state law for serving a summons 10:31 in an action brought in courts of general jurisdiction in 10:31
        18 19 the state where the district court is located or where the 10:31
        20 10:31
              service is made; or,
                         "Two, doing any of the following:
        21
10:31
10:31
        22
                         "(a) Delivering a copy of the summons and of the 23 complaint to the individual personally.
10:31
        24
                         "(b) Leaving a copy of each at the individual's 10:31
        25 dwelling or usual place of abode with someone of suitable age and discretion who resides there; or,
```

10:31

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:31

10:31

10:31

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:32

10:33

10:33

"(c) Delivering a copy of each to an agent authorized by appointment or by law to receive service of process."

You've argued that the Court's June 12th, 2009, order finding that service under Rule 4(e) was insufficient and requiring service under 4(i) is "manifestly erroneous." In the alternative, you move and request that this Court exercise its discretion to certify the following question for interlocutory appeal.

Now, let me just stop for a moment.

Assuming I was willing to do that, assuming I ruled against you for a moment, do you know how long that process is going to take? A significant period of time for the Ninth Circuit to serve. And what I'm hearing is that you want access to a Court immediately to re- -- now, hold on. You've got lot of time, believe it or not. You seem rushed. Don't be rushed -- that is a cumbersome and lengthy process. And it's gonna go further up on review, trust me, from the Ninth Circuit.

So the end result is you're fighting all of these technicalities. You can literally go down -- I'm providing you that option -- serve the United States. Jurisdiction takes place today. There's nothing appealable. And you're in court. That's what I don't understand.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:33

10:33

10:33

10:33

10:33

10:33

10:33

10:33

10:33

10:33

10:33

10:33

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:34

SACV 09-0082 DOC -7/13/2009 - Item No. 6

So if this harm is being done, it seems to me that you're stretching this process procedurally. But I'm not a lawyer. I'm not a lawyer. So I'm gonna give you the option, and you can argue. And sometimes we're dead right. In other words, we're right but we're not doing too well. And that's what I'm afraid you're in right now; and that is, I'm afraid tentatively, on a motion for reconsideration, that you may lose on this. If I don't grant interlocutory appeal, you have to either take it up or start over. And that's an incredible waste of time on this issue.

So now I'm done. You can proceed any way you'd like to. And I'm going to give you the lectern, or you can remain seated and just tell me what your thoughts are, and how you'd like to proceed.

MS. TAITZ: Well, first of all, what I would like to do is I would motion to strike from the record that appearance of U.S. Attorney because he admitted that he is not representing the President. And there is absolutely no reason for him to even be at the defendant's table. And due to the fact that the U.S. Attorney does not represent the President — but clearly the President was served; otherwise, where did he get the pleadings and knew about this hearing. The President knew that there is a hearing today and decided not to show up and not to bring an attorney who would represent him.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:34

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:35

10:36

10:36

10:36

10:36

10:36

10:36

And due to the fact that U.S. Attorney does not represent anybody in this case and has nothing to do with this case, and the President ignored the proceedings and showed disrespect to this proceedings, there's absolutely no way not to give me a default.

But in order to be fair to Mr. Obama -- and the issue, again, has -- again, has absolutely nothing to do with the U.S. Attorney's Office, because I served Mr. Obama on Inauguration Day as an individual. I served him on the Inauguration Day clearly for something that he did before he became the President -- as an individual -- so there is absolutely no reason for him to be served through U.S. Attorney's Office. There is absolutely no reason for any of those people to pay this gentleman to sit here and defend undefensible (sic) -- to defend Mr. Obama committing fraud in order to get into the White House. We should not be paying this. This is a very important issue.

If -- if -- if today Mr. Obama decides to divorce his wife, will the U.S. Attorney spend my taxpayer's money to defend him in a divorce? No. If there is a parking ticket, and Mr. Obama didn't pay -- as he, as a matter of fact, did not pay numerous parking tickets -- I don't remember how many -- and paid only during the election -- do I need to pay for his time to sit here and -- and defend undefensible -- and that's what I've seen all over the

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:36

10:36

10:36

10:36

10:36

10:36

10:36

10:36

10:36

10:36

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

10:37

country. Since the moment Mr. Obama was elected, he simply ignores service.

And I want to present -- and I don't know if you had a chance to see the motion that I have filed. And if you have time, I would like to read it. But there is a pattern of stonewalling by Mr. Obama. He is being served as an individual for something that he did before he became the President. We should not be paying the U.S. Attorney's Office to represent him. U.S. -- uh, he -- U.S. Attorney's

And since there is nobody to even object, there is nobody here who represents Mr. Obama to object to a default, how can you not give me a default? There is absolutely no reason not to give me a default. I mean, you have to. You have no -- no other option.

But moreover, in order to speed up the process, what I have seen happening around the country time and again, Mr. Obama is pushing everybody to U.S. Attorney's Office, and then the attorneys who usually work pro bono has to fight with a whole "might" of U.S. Attorney's Office, Department of Justice, who are not interested in uncovering the truth, who are not interested in pursuing justice. They're just interested in defending Mr. Obama. And that is the problem.

If I agree today to serve U.S. Attorney's Office,

```
1
              I can tell you, Your Honor, we'll get absolutely nowhere.
10:37
         2
              There is a case in New Jersey -- 10:37
         3
                        THE COURT: Just a moment.
10:37
         4
                        This Court probably moves quicker than any court 10:38
         5 in the country.
10:38
         6
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                     Well -- 10:38
         7
                        THE COURT:
                                    No.
                                          I'll say that again. This Court 10:38
         8 does not worry too much about procedure. I like an open 10:38
         9 courtroom door concerning the merits. You're being given a 10:38
10:38
        10 gift. You're in a very, very quick Court. If this matter is before this Court, I can quarantee you I will know very, 11 10:38
10:38
        12 very quickly the merits of this situation.
        13
                        My concern is, I don't know that you're correct.
10:38
10:38
        14
                   I've had my say. You do what you want. But as soon 15 as you're finished -- 10:38
        16
                         (To the U.S. Attorney:) -- then I'm going to hear 10:38
        17 from you, Counsel.
10:38
        18 10:38
                        Okay.
        19
                                     And my point, Your Honor -- well, can
                        MS. TAITZ:
10:38
10:38
        20
              I read my motion?
                        THE COURT: You can. Counsel, read your motion.
        21
10:38
10:38
        22
              But read it slowly so I get a good record of it. And if you 23 have an extra copy, give it to my court reporter.
10:38
        24
                        MS. TAITZ: Yes.
                                            I have a whole big file for you,
10:38
        25
10:38
              Your Honor.
```

```
1
                         THE COURT:
                                     All right.
10:38
         2
                         MS. TAITZ:
                                     And I have -- uh, uh, there's a motion
10:39
         3
              was e-filed.
                             I called you. It's in your box, as well.
10:39
          4
                         THE COURT:
                                     Certainly.
10:39
         5
                         MS. TAITZ: And I have all the documents.
10:39
         6
                         But what I wanted to show you, that is -- there is 10:39
         7 indeed (inaudible).
10:39
         8
                         THE COURT:
                                     Would you turn the microphone back on.
10:39
         9
                         MS. TAITZ:
                                      Uh, uh.
10:39
10:39
        10
                         THE COURT:
                                     Would you turn your microphone back 11 Somehow you've -- on.
10:39
                         MS. TAITZ: Can you hear?
10:39
        12 13
                         THE COURT:
                                     Yes.
10:39
10:39
        14
                         MS. TAITZ: What I have presented in my motion is 15 that there is a whole pattern of stonewalling by Mr. Obama, 10:39
        16 simply unwillingness to accept service.
10:39
        17
                         THE COURT: Just a moment.
10:39
                         If that's true, I'm shortening this process 10:39
        18 19 dramatically by suggesting that you simply file this or 10:39
10:39 20 you're going to have a never ending series of appeals.
                                                                           And 21 it will take a significant period of time. You're not 10:39
10:39
        22 hearing that.
        23
                                     No, I'm hearing it.
                         MS. TAITZ:
10:39
        24
                         THE COURT: You are absolutely bent that you're 10:39
        25 right concerning jurisdiction. And I've already ruled against you on one occasion. This is a motion for reconsideration; and, therefore, you have a substantial chance of having the same ruling.
10:39
```

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:40

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

In talking to you this way, you're being basically told that we're going to get to the merits of this very quickly. The government's just asking for what they believe is proper service.

I'm suggesting that, even if I was wrong on my initial ruling, it's gonna take significant time to go through the Ninth Circuit and maybe the Supreme Court. And if you believe that this harm is being done, if Obama should not be President, look at the passage of time.

You could be in court very quickly. But the way you're proceeding, frankly, whether it's this Court or another court, it's going to be a lengthy process. Because even if I rule in your favor, they're going to, in fact, appeal.

So valid service could be accomplished between the two of you in a matter of minutes.

MS. TAITZ: Uh, Your Honor -- but again, they have no standing to appeal because they don't represent anybody.

THE COURT: I've had my say. Counsel, you continue, then.

MS. TAITZ: But what I would like to suggest is that, again, since -- according to the U.S. Attorney, he stated he is not representing anybody in this case, and Mr. Obama did not show up, what I wanted to suggest is having a default, and having discovery -- post default discovery, or maybe having 60-day mediation in the post default discovery.

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:41

10:42

10:42

10:42

10:42

10:42

10:42

10:42

10:42

10:42

10:42

10:42

10:42

10:42

10:42

And I have prepared a list of documents, vital records, that I'm looking for. If Mr. Obama, who clearly was served, who sent U.S. Attorney here, would like to object -- personally, he's an attorney, or through his personal attorney -- would like to object to service, he would have an opportunity to do so during the period of the post default discovery. And this is -- this will shorten the process.

But serving today will give 60 days of wasted time. They've been served. They've got all the papers, time and -- I have here eight certified mail receipts.

I have here documents from Arizona where very similar case was filed against Mr. McCain and Mr. Obama. Mr. McCain responded. There was a different issue. Mr. Obama stonewalled, simply ignored the proceeding, disrespected the Court.

And on July the 6th, Mr. Clark Hambling (phonetic) has filed a motion for default -- very similarly filed a motion for default. And, next day, U.S. Attorney's Office has filed this Statement of Interest. Statement of Interest

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:43

10:44

10:44

10:44

10:44

10:44

10:44

10:44

10:44

10:44

does not show that they represent anybody in this -- in this case.

But all it shows -- that, in fact, Mr. Obama was served, and he has chosen not to respond. And now he's staring at two motions for default: One from Arizona, one from California, and maybe more coming. And, uh, now I quess he's deciding what to do.

I prepared, Your Honor, statements from a number of citizens from all over the country — from Utah, from Pennsylvania, from Florida, from different states — where I asked them to help me in serving Department of Justice. And I have eight certified mail receipts. I have affidavits from citizens from different states that have submitted the paperwork, that have sent certified mail, they have called to follow up. I have here — and I will give you all of those documents. I have here a lady that called twelve times Mr. Holder. They stonewall. They do not respond. And that is the problem.

And -- and from what I've seen, from the cases -specifically from -- not my cases. Pennsylvania and New Jersey and other states, the moment U.S. Attorneys becomes involved, the citizens of this country have to waste their taxpayer money to pay for the U.S. Attorney's Office for -- to defend something that Obama did before the election. Clearly has nothing to do with U.S. Attorney's

```
Office.
         1 10:44
         2
                         And -- and all U.S. Attorney's Office does -- 10:44
         3 they're not interested on the case -- on the merits.
10:44
         4
              They're not interested if he is qualified or not. They 10:44
         5 would find some technicalities saying there is no 10:44
         6 standing -- even though, this case, we have a presidential 10:44
         7 candidate, and I have amicas curia from another presidential 10:44
         8 candidate, and we have a vice presidential candidate -- 10:44
         9 stating anything, just finding technicalities to throw cases 10:45
10:45 10 out of court.
        11
                         If I serve them today, there will be 60 days for 10:45
10:45 12 them to respond. In those 60 days, God knows what's gonna 13 happen in this country. And then they're gonna file for 10:45 extension, as it was in New Jersey, where they've been 14 10:45
        15 filing extension after extension after extension -- half a 10:45
        16 year of extensions, and then motions for dismiss -- for 10:45
        17 dismissal.
10:45
                                      There aren't going to be any 10:45
        18
                         THE COURT: 19 extensions here.
10:45
10:45
        20
                         MS. TAITZ:
                                      Well, um -- 21
                         THE COURT:
                                      There aren't going to be any 10:45
10:45
        22 extensions here.
        23
                         There aren't going to be any extensions here.
10:45
        24
                         Did you hear me?
10:45
        25
10:45
                         MS. TAITZ:
                                      Yeah.
                                              I hear.
```

```
1
                        THE COURT:
                                    All right.
10:45
         2
                        MS. TAITZ: I was wondering is there any way for 10:45
         3
             Your Honor to order 60-day mediation?
10:45
         4
                        THE COURT: Why would I order mediation?
10:45
         5 either valid or invalid. He's either the President or not.
10:45
         6
             What's there to mediate?
10:46
                        MS. TAITZ: In -- well, mediation -- 10:46
         8
                        THE COURT:
                                    If he doesn't meet the criteria, he's 10:46
         9 not the President of the United States. It's just that 10:46
10:46 10 simple.
                      And if he does meet the criteria, he is. So what's 11 the mediation? You want to make him Vice President?
10:46
10:46
        12
                        MS. TAITZ: No, no. In terms of documents that 13 need to be produced, I have a list of documents that I'm -- 10:46
        14
10:46
              I'm seeking. And during this period of time, instead of 15 waiting for the U.S. Attorney's Office for -- for 60 days to 10:46
        16
              just respond to service, we can -- uh, if we have a default, 10:46
        17 uh, today -- if we have default judgment today, specifically 10:46
        18 because, as I said, U.S. Attorney didn't even state that 10:46
        19 they represent the President, and President did not send his 10:46
10:46 20 attorney, there is full reason to -- to grant the default.
        21
                        And during the 60-day default, uh, um, discovery 10:46
              I -- I -- I have here motion of all the documents that I'm 10:46
        22 23 speaking for. If Mr. Obama feels that for some reason he 10:47
        24 does not want to release any of those documents, he would 10:47
        25 have an opportunity to object. His attorney -- I'm sure he 10:47
```

```
will send an attorney who will object, who will state, 1
10:47
         2
              "Okay. We're prepared to show a certified copy of this 10:47
         3 document, but not of this one. This is private and this is 10:47
         4 public." This way, we'll be able to get to the merits.
10:47
         5
                        Your Honor, I have here a letter from somebody who 10:47
         6 is a captain in the U.S. Army, stating that she -- 10:47
         7
                        THE COURT: I'm just going to joke with you, 10:47
         8 Counsel:
                        I was in the Marine Corps, so I don't pay 10:47
         9 attention to the U.S. Army.
10:47
10:47
        10
                        I'm just joking with you. I do. Army's terrific.
                        MS. TAITZ: Well, Your Honor, I have currently 170 11 10:47
10:47 12 plaintiffs -- from Marines, from Army -- one of them, as a 13 matter of fact, Lieutenant Colonel Wiggens (phonetic) from 10:47
        14
10:47
             U.S. Marines. I have Major General Childers (phonetic) from 15
             U.S. Army. I have Brigadier General from Air Force. I do 10:47
        16 have a lot of members of the military. And they're all 10:48
        17 greatly concerned about what is going on. They're being 10:48
              sent to -- to Afghanistan where they're sitting ducks, where 10:48
        18 19 they've been given orders not to shoot back, not to return 10:48
        20 10:48
              fire.
        21
                        As a matter of fact, we're going on Thursday to 10:48
10:48
        22
             Georgia where a Major, who is employed by Southern Command, 23 is stating he cannot be deployed to Afghanistan in two days 10:48
        24 because he doesn't know if this President is legitimate -- 10:48
```

if he's legitimate as the Commander-in-Chief, and if his 25

10:48

```
orders are legitimate.
```

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:48

10:48

10:48

10:48

10:48

10:48

10:48

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:49

10:50

10:50

What -- I mean, let's see. What would be the fastest way to obtain the documents?

And, again, Mr. Obama did not state a right to privacy that he could — that the documents cannot be produced. All he is saying, that it's good enough to produce a computerized image of the documents instead of an actual document or a certified copy, in which case, what can he object to?

We're not asking for any money. We -- so there will be no damage in that. And all we are asking for is to see that the original documents are -- indeed comply with the computerized copies that -- that he has, uh, submitted.

Why -- I mean -- I see absolutely no possible justification not to give default, specifically because there is nobody objecting. Who is here objecting to default? He is not representing the President. And the President did not show up and didn't send his attorney. So there is nobody to object to -- to my motion for default. And here is the motion (reading):

"This Court has jurisdiction over Count 1 of Plaintiff's complaint filed January 20th, 2009, Declaratory Judgment, regarding Barack H. Obama's status as natural born citizen and resultant constitutional qualifications to serve as President."

```
1
                         THE COURT: Slower, and move the microphone 10:50
         2
                      And, if you have a copy, you might give it to the 10:50
         3
              court reporter.
10:50
         4
                         MS. TAITZ:
                                     It's already in your box, Your Honor.
10:50
         5
                         THE COURT: Well, that's nice. You might give it 10:50 6 to the court reporter.
10:50
         7
                         MR. DeJUTE: Can I interpose an objection on the 10:50
         8 speaking motion, Your Honor?
10:50
         9
                         THE COURT: Certainly.
10:50
10:50
        10
                         MR. DeJUTE: That motion was filed today. I got the electronic notice of it.
        11 10:50
10:50
        12
                         THE COURT: Well, I know that. I'm not going to 13 resolve it.
10:50
        14
                         Counsel, I don't have that motion before the Court 10:50
        15 because it was filed today also.
10:50
        16
10:50
                         But you want to read, so I've got lots of time.
        17
                         MS. TAITZ: Sure.
10:50
        18
                         THE COURT: We can read day and night, if you'd 10:50
        19
                         It's not going to get resolved until I read it.
              like to.
10:50 20 10:50
              You filed it today.
        21
                         MS. TAITZ: Yes.
10:50
10:50
        22
                         THE COURT: So there's no value to it until I read 23 it.
10:50
        24 Absolutely.
                         MS. TAITZ:
10:50
        25
                                      So you're just doing this for 10:50
                         THE COURT:
```

```
vourself.
         1 10:50
         2
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                     (No audible response.)
10:50
         3
                         THE COURT: In other words, I haven't read it yet 10:50
         4
              'cause I got it today. I've been on the bench. So until I 10:50
         5 read that, I don't know why you're reading it into the 10:50 record.
         6
10:50
                        But if it makes you feel better, read.
10:51
         8
                        MS. TAITZ: Okay. We do have a number of 10:51
         9 observers here in the courtroom that would like to report to 10:51
10:51
        10 the public what is happening in the courtroom and -- and I 11 think it is important.
10:51
10:51
        12
                         THE COURT: I'm giving you all the time in the world.
        13
10:51
        14 10:51
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                     Sure.
        15
                         THE COURT: Now, I've got a 12:00 o'clock, and 10:51 then I've got a criminal calendar at 1:30, so you'll 16
10:51
        17 probably be back at 5:00. Okay?
10:51
        18 10:51
                        So start reading.
        19
                        MS. TAITZ: "This Court has jurisdiction over 10:51
10:51
        20
              Count 1 of the Plaintiffs' complaint filed January 20th, 2009, for declaratory judgment regarding Barack H. Obama's 21 10:51
10:51
        22 status as a natural-born citizen and resultant 23
              Constitutional qualifications to serve as President, 10:51
        24 pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 USC, 10:51
        25
              Paragraph 552(a)(4)(B), and 42 USC, Paragraphs 1983, 1988, 10:52
```

```
Civil Rights Action, and venue is proper in the Central 1 10:52
         2
              District of California, Santa Ana Division, is the District 10:52
         3
              and division in which Plaintiff Wiley S. Drake lives, 10:52
         4
              Buena Park, Orange County, California.
10:52
         5
                         "This matter is justiciable under FOIA 5 USC, 10:52 paragraph 552(a)(b), 552(b)(2)" (sic) "1988." 6
10:52
         7
                        THE COURT: Now, we don't have any disagreement 10:52
         8 that this may be the proper jurisdiction.
10:52
         9
                                     "Under FOIA, an agency such as the
                        MS. TAITZ:
10:52
10:52
        10
              Executive Office of the President and the White House, 11
              Title 3 CFR, must disclose the information sought -- sought 10:52
10:52 12 by the requester unless the agency can invoke one of nine 13 exceptions specified in that Act. See 5 USC 552" (sic) 10:52
        14
                      Some of these exemptions protecting personal 10:52
        15 privacy apply to medical and personnel records.
10:53
        16
                         "However, it has been for many years recognized 10:53
        17 that the medical and personnel records of the de facto 10:53
        18 or" -- 10:53
        19
                        THE COURT: We can't get a good record of what 10:53
10:53 20 you're reading, so if it's inaccurate, that's your 21 responsibility.
10:53
10:53
        22
                        Do you want to start over again?
        23
                        MS. TAITZ: No, I'll continue.
10:53
        24
                        THE COURT: Slower.
10:53
        25
                                      -- "such as Barack Hussein Obama 10:53
                        MS. TAITZ:
```

today, and even for candidates for the Presidency of the United States are matters of public interest and concern.

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:53

10:53

10:53

10:53

10:53

10:53

10:53

10:53

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:55

10:55

"The issue in this case is whether the public interest in a limited number of personnel records on Barack Hussein Obama is sufficient to compel disclosure of one particular document whose existence has been acknowledged and confirmed many times, but which, for whatever as yet undisclosed reasons, neither the private candidate Barack Hussein Obama or the de facto President Barack Hussein Obama has been willing to disclose; namely, the 'vault' or 'long form' Hawaii birth certificate, and all related hospital or medical documents, which Plaintiffs contend will finally confirm or denounce Barack Hussein Obama's Article II qualifications to serve and faithfully and execute the Office of President of the United States.

"The public had before the election and still has today a compelling interest in the disclosure of this one single bit of critical documentation and all related records and proof. The public's interest is undergirded by two lines of decisions from U.S. Supreme Court. The first line concerns the public's right to the performance of an agency manager, such as an — including the President as manager of the entire Executive Branch under FOIA. The second line of decisions concerns the vital role in our democratic society played by disclosing facts and track records of candidate for public office.

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:55

10:55

10:55

10:55

10:55

10:55

10:55

10:55

10:55

10:55

10:55

10:55

10:56

10:56

10:56

10:56

10:56

10:56

10:56

10:56

10:56

10:56

10:56

10:56

10:56

"Against this enormous public interest in favor of disclosing the records on Barack Hussein Obama, the present defendant, Barack Hussein Obama, is — by default, has raised absolutely nothing, nor have the U.S. Attorneys who attempt to appear as nonparties, neither as representing Obama, nor any intervening party, nor as 'amesca' (sic) curiae on their own behalf, with their highly irregular statement of interest, the statutory or rule-based justification for which does not appear" to be (sic) "on the face of this bizarre filing.

"The Defendant's substantive default is complete after repeated notification and service.

"Since the FOIA exceptions that permit an agency to withhold information are narrowly construed, the Court has no statutory basis to rule for anything except full production of the limited number of constitutionally significant documents from the de facto Chief Executive Officer of the United States. It is a matter of public record that Barack Hussein Obama, both as the Presidential candidate and the de facto, has never denied the relevance of his birth certificate, but, in fact, repeatedly produced an unsigned, unofficial document directly and through the Democratic National Committee.

"Accordingly, even if -- if Barack Hussein Obama

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

10:56

10:56

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:57

10:58

10:58

10:58

10:58

10:58

10:58

10:58

10:58

10:58

were deemed to have appeared and answered or objected to service by and through the U.S. Attorney's Office, which he plainly did not do, Barack Hussein Obama would be equitably and quite possibly judicially estopped by his conduct in prior litigation from raising any FOIA objection to all elements of his personal and medical records under FOIA. As shown in Exhibit B, in prior proceedings, another United States Attorney in the State of California, to wit, Lawrence G. Brown and Yoshinori H.T. Himel, agreed to the production of documents informally rather than by subpoena, Exhibit B."

And, Your Honor, I have already subpoenaed, and -uh, those records. And here is the stipulation that I've already achieved with the U.S. Attorney's Office in a prior case on behalf of Ambassador Keyes, and that stipulation converting subpoena into demand. And what's happened with U.S. Attorney's Office, they have agreed -- they have agreed to cooperate and --

THE COURT: All right. Now, Counsel, the problem you're running into is that this was filed today. Opposing Counsel does not have this. I have this for the first time. My clerk just handed it to me. And counsel now is going to have time to respond to this.

So your reading, quite frankly, is of no consequence. I'm going to read this, and he's going to have

```
1 time now to respond.
10:58
          2
                         MS. TAITZ:
                                     The only -- well, um -- 10:58
          3
                         THE COURT:
                                      Therefore, I'm going to order you both 10:58
          4 back next Monday.
10:58
          5
                         MS. TAITZ:
                                     Okay.
10:58
          6
                         MR. DeJUTE: Very well, Your Honor.
10:58
          7
                         THE COURT: Now, just a moment.
10:58
          8
                         Let's see if we can make sure.
10:58
          9
                         MR. DeJUTE: Before you set any dates, 10:59
        10
              Your Honor -- 10:59
        11
                         THE COURT: No. Just a moment, Counsel.
10:59
10:59
        12
                         Well, next week's not available.
        13
                         But, anyway, Counsel?
10:59
10:59
        14
                         MR. DeJUTE: Thank you, Your Honor.
                         I would just suggest that, before you set any 15
10:59
        16 dates for the motion for default, we have to have a case or 10:59
        17 controversy before this Court. And that means that service 10:59
        18 has to be properly effected.
10:59
        19
                         I'm prepared to respond, as Your Honor said I 10:59
10:59
        20 could, if you wish me to do that now.
                         Counsel has -- 21
10:59
11:00
        22
                         THE COURT: Service has to be appropriate.
        23
                         MR. DeJUTE: Service has to be appropriate.
11:00
        24
                         The motion for default is not properly before this 11:00
        25
              Court because this Court has noticed a motion or a hearing 11:00
```

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:00

11:01

11:01

11:01

11:01

11:01

11:01

```
for reconsideration on the Court's ruling that service was improper, and so that's what's before this Court.
```

Briefly, we are not here representing Barack Obama because it's our position that he was not properly served. His default can't -- it's no disrespect. His default simply cannot be taken because you can't take the default of someone who wasn't served.

THE COURT: Counsel's raised the question: Then why are you here --

MR. DeJUTE: And I can answer that.

THE COURT: -- and that's because he's President of the United States. That's why you can make your appearance.

MR. DeJUTE: Well, we're making the appearance on behalf of the United States. Counsel suggests it's not pursuant to any statute. The first line of what we filed points her to the statute: 28 USC, Section 517. And it says that the United States can appear in any matter in any civil court when there's an interest involving the United States.

Whether or not Barack Obama is properly The President is an interest of the United States as determined by the Attorney General. And I would simply suggest that this is not a case of a divorce proceeding. This is not a case of a traffic ticket. This is a case in which plaintiffs allege that he is not properly obligated to hold 1 11:01

```
         2 the Office.
11:01
         3
                        THE COURT: I agree. I think it's as simple as 11:01
         4 this:
11:01
         5
                         (To Plaintiffs' counsel:) If there's not going to 11:01
         6 be a refiling, Counsel, I'm simply going to decide on this 11:01
         7
             Motion for Reconsideration concerning jurisdiction.
11:01
         8
                        And what you're speaking to are the merits, again.
11:01
         9
              I've given you a vehicle, an avenue to get into court. I 11:01
11:01
        10 think that this is going to end up being a nonending series 11 of appeals, quite frankly. And the way you're both 11:01
11:01
        12 proceeding is going to take an extreme amount of time. And 13
              I wish this would be resolved on its merits quickly. And 11:01
        14 he's either not President or he is.
11:01
        15
                        But, apparently, you're both bent on taking the 11:02
        16 long way around this. So that's what we'll do.
11:02
        17
                        MR. DeJUTE: I can --
11:02
                        THE COURT: Counsel, you're not ordered to -- I 11:02
        18 19 wasn't smiling at you, was I?
11:02
        20
                        MR. DeJUTE: I'm sorry, Your Honor.
11:02
                        THE COURT: No. Good.
        21
11:02
11:02
        22
                        Now, this latest motion, Counsel, I agree:
        23 doesn't come to the Court the day of a hearing and then get 11:02 24 credence with the Court.
11:02
        25
                        And number two, it's putting the horse before the 11:02
```

```
And we're not going to get to the merits of this 1 11:02
         2 unless I have proper service. Already I've held on one 11:02
         3 occasion that I don't believe it is. I'll relook at that 11:02
         4 issue again. But I think I'm going to stop the reading of 11:02 this document because it goes to the merits, which is what 5 11:02
         6
             I'd like to get to; but, apparently, we're not going to be 11:02
         7
             able to.
11:03
         8
                        MR. DeJUTE: May I make one comment, Your Honor?
11:03
         9
                        THE COURT: No.
11:03
        10
                        Now, I don't think that there's anything further 11:03
             that's beneficial to this Court today. And I'm going to 11
11:03
11:03
        12 stop the reading of your document just because, first, I 13 haven't read it; second, I can read it; three, serve it 11:03
        14 beforehand if you want me to read that. I was here all 11:03
        15
                        Would have been happy to have read it this 11:03 weekend.
        16 weekend. But not on the day of the hearing.
11:03
        17
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                    Uh, well --
11:03
11:03
        18
                        THE COURT:
                                    No. Thank you very much, counsel.
                                                                            Ι 19 didn't think I had given you permission to speak yet, 11:03
        20 11:03 either.
        21
                        So I want you two to have a very brief
11:03
11:03
        22 conversation. That's not a request; it's an order.
        23
                        Get up out of your seats.
11:04
        24
                        Get up out of your seat. Approach each other.
11:04
        25 through those double doors and decide between the two of you 11:04
```

```
1 what gets this case into court as quickly as possible in a 11:04
         2 practical sense.
11:04
         3
                        Counsel, I was speaking. You two will have a 11:04
         4 conversation first. In other words, I'm giving you both 11:04
         5 control right now before I step in with a heavy hand.
11:04
         6
                        How do you get the case into court quickly, which 11:04
         7 is what each of you want. Okay. Good-bye. I'll see you in 11:04
         8 a few moments. Good-bye.
11:04
         9
                        MR. DeJUTE: We've had that discussion,
11:04
        10
              Your Honor.
11:04
        11
                        THE COURT: Go outside the door for a moment.
11:04
11:04
        12
              You're having it again. And then come on back in after 13 you've had a brief discussion. I want to make sure you've 11:04 14 thoroughly discussed this.
11:04
        15
                          (Counsel exit the courtroom.)
11:04
        16
                          (Pause in the proceedings at 11:04 a.m.)
11:04
        17
                          (Proceedings resumed at 11:06 a.m.)
11:04
                        THE COURT: Okay. Would the CSO get them.
11:06
        18 19
              They've had time.
11:06
        20
11:06
                        COURT SERVICES OFFICER: Yes, Your Honor.
        21
                        THE COURT: Thank you, Counsel, for your courtesy.
11:06
11:06
        22
              I don't care what the resolution is. I just wanted another 23 brief discussion between the two of you. I assume you 11:06
        24 haven't reached a resolution.
11:06
        25
                        MS. TAITZ: Yes, we did. Actually, we did.
11:06
```

```
1
                        THE COURT: I'm sorry?
11:06
         2
                        MR. DeJUTE: I suggested, Your Honor, that if the 11:06
         3
              Plaintiffs were to serve the U.S. Attorneys Office properly, 11:06
         4 we would respond within 60 days and not seek an extension.
11:06
                        THE COURT: I think that, between the two of you, 5 11:06
              it would get it into the court the fastest possible way 6 11:06
         7 because, if you don't do that, there's going to be a series 11:06
         8 of appeals no matter what. You're going to tie this case up 11:06
         9 in the Ninth Circuit for nine months to a year -- I mean, in 11:06
        10 a practical sense.
11:06
        11
                        But, Counsel, I'll look to both of you.
11:07
11:07
        12
                        MR. DeJUTE: No, I have no statement.
        13
                        THE COURT: No extensions, 60 days, proper 11:07
        14 service, and we're all done with all the legal nonsense.
11:07
        15
              We're right into court.
11:07
        16
                        MS. TAITZ: Well -- okay. Well, what we suggested 11:07
        17 to the counsel, and I believe -- I guess what we're gonna do 11:07
        18 is, if he accepts service today, we will send a FOIA request 11:07
        19 for a 30-day response.
11:07
11:07
        20
                        MR. DeJUTE: I haven't seen it, Your Honor. I 21 haven't -- they may do anything they wish.
11:07
11:07
        22
                        THE COURT: That's not an agreement that he's 23 going to comply with that. But get the case into court, for 11:07
        24 goodness sakes.
11:07
        25
11:07
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                     Okay.
```

```
THE COURT: I mean, if he's not President, he 1
11:07
         2 shouldn't be President; if he is, he should be. And we need 11:07
         3 to resolve this on the merits.
11:07
         4
                        I'm sorry. Is the young lady back here helping 11:07
         5
              me?
11:07
         6 MEMBER OF THE AUDIENCE: No.
11:07
         7
                        THE COURT: No. Good. Don't help me. You can 11:07
         8 sit there very quietly now.
11:07
         9
                        So, Counsel, if you want me to resolve this, I 11:07
        10 will. I suggest to you tentatively that the ruling would be 11:07
        11 unfavorable to you. Okay?
11:08
                        MS. TAITZ: Well, I -- 11:08
        12
                        THE COURT: And, therefore, if you can file today, 13
11:08
        14 it resolves all the jurisdictional issues. It will spin 11:08
        15 through the labyrinth, but it will come right back to this 11:08
        16 Court.
11:08
        17
                        MR. DeJUTE: You misspoke. Not "file."
11:08
                        THE COURT: I said if you "file" it?
11:08
        18 19
                        THE CLERK:
                                    "Serve."
11:08
                        MR. DeJUTE: "Serve."
11:08
        20
                        THE COURT: I mean "serve it." My apologies. If 21
11:08
11:08
        22 you serve it, it will come right back to this Court and 23 we'll expedite it. He's representing no extensions, and we 11:08
        24 move pretty quick here.
11:08
        25
11:08
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                     Okay.
```

```
THE COURT: Pretty quick for both of you.
         1
11:08
         2
                        So don't be shocked. When you come back to this 11:08
         3
              Court, I'm going to be putting a lot of pressure on both of 11:08
         4 to you produce. And, therefore, if you need, you know, 11:08
              help -- or you need help -- expect this case to move. So 5 11:08
         6 get the support in here because you'll be surprised.
11:08
                        Now, I'm not joking for just a moment.
11:08
         8
                        How late have we been on the record with both 11:08
         9 counsel arguing a matter?
11:08
        10
                         (To the reporter:) You start first.
11:08
                        COURT REPORTER: 1:00 a.m.
        11
11:08
11:09
        12
                        THE COURT: Kristee.
                                    1:00 a.m. and weekends.
        13
                        THE CLERK: 11:09
        14
                        THE COURT: Clerks.
11:09
        15
                        LAW CLERKS: (In unison:) 1:00 a.m. and weekends.
11:09
                        THE COURT: "And weekends."
        16
11:09
        17
                        So that means Saturdays I work. I've had the 11:09
              Aryan Brotherhood, 30 defendants, with 30 murders, and we 18
11:09
        19 worked every weekend. Every Saturday they were in here with 11:09
        20 11:09
              25 marshals.
        21
                        So if you want this case expedited, I'll expedite 11:09
        22 it, and I'll get the documents in front of this Court, I 11:09
              mean immediately. There's no question about that.
        23
11:09
        24
                         (To Plaintiffs' counsel:) Because, if you're 11:09
        25 11:09
              correct, then from your perspective and the country's
```

```
1 perspective, he's not President.
11:09
         2
                         (To U.S. Attorney:) If you're correct, we set this 11:09
         3 aside immediately. It's done, and the country isn't sitting 11:09
         4 there wondering who the Commander-in-Chief is or who the 11:09
         5
              President of the United States is.
11:09
         6
                        And I just want to thank both of you because, 11:09
         7 without following this process -- which, quite frankly, I'm 11:09
         8 leaning on you to do -- this is a never-ending series of 11:09
         9 appeals. It's gonna go to the Ninth Circuit, the Supreme 11:09
        10
              Court, back, we're gonna be back here literally a year to a 11:10 11 year and a half from now.
11:10
11:10
        12
                        Why? It's not fair to the public.
        13
                        Okay. So you're going down and serve?
11:10
                        MS. TAITZ: Uh, yeah. And, uh -- 14
11:10
        15
                        THE COURT: No, no. Yes?
11:10
                        MS. TAITZ: Yes. And -- 16
11:10
        17
                        MR. LINCOLN: The law clerk will see to it, sir.
11:10
                        THE COURT: When? By 12:00 o'clock?
11:10
        18 19
                        MR. LINCOLN:
                                       No.
11:10
11:10 20
                        THE COURT: By 12:00 o'clock?
        21
                        MR. LINCOLN: I think we'll have to make copies of 11:10
11:10 22 one thing.
        23
                        THE COURT: By 1:30?
11:10
        24
                                    (Inaudible) amend the complaint.
                        MS. TAITZ:
11:10
        25
11:10
                        MR. LINCOLN:
                                       We may amend later. She's asking
```

```
1 about that. We'll serve the current copy now.
11:10
         2
                        THE COURT: Current copy now.
11:10
         3
                        MS. TAITZ: I have it with me.
11:10
         4
                        THE COURT: Just a moment. See how quickly we're 11:10
         5 going to move?
11:10
         6
                        Counsel is going to walk with you down to the 11:10
         7
              U.S. Attorney's Office.
11:10
         8 Correct?
11:10
         9
                        MR. DeJUTE: If you order, sir.
11:10
        10
                        THE COURT: I'm ordering it.
11:10
                        MS. TAITZ: It's ready for him.
        11
11:10
11:10
        12
                        THE COURT: And that takes care of all the 13 problems.
11:10
        14
                         In other words, we're not -- otherwise, he leaves 11:10
        15 court. You serve downstairs. You're both ordered to go 11:10
        16 down to the U.S. Attorney's Office right now, get the proper 11:11
        17 service in place. We'll spin it through the mechanism. It 11:11 will be back to me probably within a day or two.
        18
11:11
        19
                        What it does is goes back on the wheel, but 11:11
11:11 20 because I had the case -- 21
                        THE CLERK: They're not refiling. They're just 11:11
        22 serving.
11:11
                        THE COURT: They're just serving. That's right.
        23
11:11
        24
              My apologies. You're just serving so it stays right here.
11:11
        25
11:11
              And so it saves a day.
```

```
1
                        So you're gonna file immediately?
11:11
         2
                        MR. LINCOLN: I believe -- we have to make a copy, 11:11
         3 like I said, Your Honor. And we have to do -- does the -- 11:11
         4 does -- the U.S. Attorney, do they waive service of the 11:11
         5 summons? Do we have to get a summons issued?
11:11
         6
                        MR. DeJUTE: I don't think I'm authorized to waive 11:11
         7
                        But I can tell you, we will not stand on fact 11:11
         8 (inaudible) --
11:11
         9
                        MR. LINCOLN: Your Honor, do we order that we get 11:11
             a summons done?
        10
11:11
                        MR. DeJUTE: I think I've said you don't need a 11
11:11
11:12 12 summons.
        13
                        MR. LINCOLN: Okay.
11:12
        14
                        MR. DeJUTE: I'm not authorized to do so, but we 11:12
        15 will not "not respond" because there's not a summons.
11:12
        16
                        MS. TAITZ: Okay. Well, here you go.
11:12
        17
              (Indicating). Now we've just served.
11:12
        18
                        THE COURT: No. Just go down to the 11:12
        19
             U.S. Attorneys Office, so it's in the proper area.
11:12
11:12 20 going to follow all the rules so it's done. It's a proper 21 service at the U.S. Attorney's Office.
11:12
11:12
        22
                        MR. DeJUTE: If I may inquire, Your Honor. The 23 motion sought to dismiss Counts 2 and 3, and all other 11:12
        24 defendants other than Barack Obama.
11:12
        25
                        I simply want to inquire whether or not that is 11:12
```

```
1 how we should respond?
11:12
         2
                         THE COURT: Yeah, I forgot.
11:12
         3
                        You were going to dismiss Count 2 and 3 and the 11:12
         4 other defendants?
11:12
         5
                        MS. TAITZ: Yes, yes.
11:12
                        THE COURT:
                                     Your disagreement's really with Obama.
         6 11:12
         7
                        MS. TAITZ: Yes, exactly.
11:12
         8
                        THE COURT: Is that still acceptable?
11:12
         9
                        MS. TAITZ:
                                     Yes, yes.
11:12
        10
                         THE COURT:
                                     Then, why don't I simply -- first of 11:12
              all, I'll remember that. And if not, on the next occasion, 11
11:12
11:12 12 because you're refiling the original document, I'll simply 13 make that -- 11:12
                        MR. DeJUTE: Just "serving" it, Your Honor?
        14
11:12
        15
                        MS. TAITZ: "Serving."
11:12
        16
                                     Thank you very much, Counsel.
                        THE COURT:
11:12
        17
                         I'll simply make that notation, and I'll strike 11:12 that at the time. So even if they're serving the original 18
11:13
        19 document, I don't think we have to worry about Mr. Mueller, 11:13
        20 11:13
              et al.
        21
                        MR. DeJUTE:
                                       (Inaudible.)
11:13
11:13
        22
                        COURT REPORTER: Can you either speak louder or 23 turn on your microphone.
11:13
        24
                        MR. DeJUTE: Only obligation's to respond to Obama 11:13
        25 and Count 1?
11:13
```

```
THE COURT: Only to Obama and Count 1.
         1
11:13
         2
                        Is that your understanding, also: Obama and 11:13
         3
             Count 1?
11:13
         4
                        MS. TAITZ: Yeah.
11:13
         5
                        MR. LINCOLN: But we do reserve the right to 11:13
             amend, right, Your Honor? For -- one free amendment before 6 11:13 7
             the answer?
11:13
         8
                        THE COURT: Yes, you do. And not only that, I use 11:13
         9 my discretion, even -- it's one free amendment, but also I'm 11:13
11:13
        10 pretty liberal about amendments. I just am encouraging the 11 two of you to move on this case. And once I've got it back 11:13
11:13
        12 in the proper format, we'll go quickly. Okay.
        13
                        So therefore, I don't know why you need FOIA
11:13
        14 requests. I mean, go ahead and file 'em if you want to.
11:13
        15
             But the Court's going to be making orders, which will 11:13
        16 probably be a lot quicker than your FOIA request. Right?
11:13
        17
                        Well, now, Counsel, I want to thank both of you.
11:14
              I think we finally got it in a posture that we can decide it 11:14
        18 19 on the merits. And I really appreciate it. If I was 11:14
        20 11:14
             discourteous to each of you, I apologize. It's just 21 frustrating watching what's happening here.
11:14
11:14
        22
                        And now, I think we've got a vehicle to get this 23 before the Court as quickly as possible and not waste 11:14
        24 people's time.
11:14
        25
                        Thank you very much.
11:14
```

```
MR. LINCOLN: God save this Honorable Court.
          1
11:14
                         THE COURT: Thank you very much, Counsel -- or 2
11:14
          3 clerk. Appreciate it.
11:14
          4
                     (At 11:14 a.m., proceedings were adjourned.)
11:14
          5
                                             -000-11:14
          6 11:14
          7
          8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16
         17 18 19 20 21
         22
         23 24
         25
```

```
-000-11:14
          2
11:14
          3 CERTIFICATE
11:14
11:14
          5
                          I hereby certify that pursuant to Section 753, 11:14
          6
              Title 28, United States Code, the foregoing is a true and 11:14
          7 correct transcript of the stenographically reported 11:14
          8 proceedings held in the above-entitled matter and that the 11:14
          9 transcript page format is in conformance with the 11:14
              regulations of the Judicial Conference of the United States.
11:14
         10 11
11:14
11:14
         12
              Date:
                      September 12, 2009
         13
11:14
         14
11:14
11:14
         15
11:14
                                        DEBBIE GALE, U.S. COURT REPORTER
11:14
         16
                                        CSR NO. 9472, RPR
11:14
         17
11:14
         18
11:14
         19
11:14 20 21
         22
         23 24
         25
```