

Obama to Lose Yet Another Huge Voting Bloc?

by Miki Booth

Native Americans are very angry to learn that Muslims in the United States of America are being touted as "indigenous," a complete falsehood. The fact is, American Indians are the indigenous people of North America, as Hawai'ians are to Hawai'i and the Aborigine to Australia. Organizations like BIMA marginalizes native Americans in favor of Muslims, and Indians are not pleased. Speaking with many tribal friends and associates here in northeast Oklahoma, it is clear that the support Obama received from native American democrats in 2008 is waning. They can see that the hope and change Obama promised four years ago was not what anyone expected. Especially not these people, with their deep Christian beliefs and rolls filled with veterans of foreign wars.

Twenty thousand Islamists and their sympathizers are expected to attend the opening of the Democratic National Convention on August 31 to focus on Islam with Jumah[sic], the Friday prayer, to draw in Muslims to the DNC. The important prayer and two days of events are being coordinated by the Bureau of Indigenous Muslim Affairs (BIMA), a national Muslim non-profit claiming that the event is non-political. Being a part of the actual convention makes it pretty hard to claim that it isn't a political event.

The initials BIMA quickly caught my attention because I'm keyed in to the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA), the agency that my husband works closely with in his capacity as Director of Security for an Indian casino. I was appalled when I went to the BIMA website and saw the words "Indigenous Muslim." THERE'S NO SUCH THING IN THE UNITED STATES! Imagine my horror when I read their mission statement:

THE BUREAU OF INDEGENOUS MUSLIM AFFAIRS (BIMA) IS A NON PROFIT ORGANIZATION SEEKING STATUS WITH THE UNITED NATIONS AS A NON GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATION (NGO). BIMA WAS FOUNDED IN 1992 BY THE LATE HAJJ HESHAAM JAABER. THE OBJECTIVE OF BIMA IS TO PROVIDE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT TO INDIGENOUS MUSLIMS IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Is it possible that whoever came up with the name BIMA simply doesn't know the meaning of the word "indigenous"? It is possible, because their culture is twisted and their educators willfully ignorant. But seeing what the Muslim usurper in the White House has done to elevate Islam throughout the world, I'm convinced it's purposeful. The name of the organization plays off of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, equating Muslims to native Americans and spreading the propaganda necessary to keep our tax dollars flowing to fund the Islamic onslaught of our dying country.

I live in Wyandotte, Oklahoma, home to the Wyandotte Nation. I can recite the seven other tribes that have their tribal headquarters here in northeast Oklahoma and I don't even need to "google" or "bing" them: Eastern Shawnee, Miami, Modoc, Quapaw, Cayuga-Seneca, Peoria and Ottawa. The Cherokee Nation is the largest tribe in Oklahoma, headquartered in Tahlequah. Many Oklahomans are part Cherokee, descendants of the indigenous tribes from the southeastern United States that were forced to relocate to what was then Indian Territory, the eastern sections of Oklahoma. The Indian Removal Act of 1830 left a "Trail of Tears," the name given to the 2,200-mile-long trek on which 4,000 of the 15,000 mostly Cherokee died of exposure, sickness and starvation on their way to Oklahoma.

Shameless Dem. Elizabeth Warren claimed minority status to further her career, claiming she was Cherokee. Warren, Muslims including Obama, and a large number of democrats in congress lie about anything and everything that will help advance their cause. Rewriting history is high on their agenda to transform America into an Islamic state on the backs of American Indians, who have always suffered silently at the hands of our federal government.

A very dear friend of mine and champion of liberty, Dr. Kate, is a well-known Constitutionalist and blogs on the website drkatesview.com with her thoughts on our Constitutional Republic. Dr. Kate holds a Ph.D in Watershed Management from the University of Arizona. Kate is an American Indian, and for more than 25 years she dedicated her services working for and with American Indians to help them identify, secure and manage Indian water rights.

On Kate's blog is a tab entitled "Government Intimidation." This is a subject she is intimately familiar with. During a meeting of Indian leaders in Washington where Dr. Kate was the spokeswoman for the assembled tribes, the government official chairing the event, Valerie Jarrett, used her accomplished intimidation tactic of holding back government funds until and unless the tribes severed their ties with the outwardly anti-Obama Dr. Kate and work directly with the federal government. Lately Valerie Jarrett is making news on many fronts since Ed Klein's blockbuster book, "The Amateur" revealed Obama's Senior Advisor to be an Iranian-born, communist sympathizer. White House Insiders writing under anonymity confirm Jarrett's ties to Muslim extremists including her mother, a member of the Muslim Brotherhood. As much as the media would like to deny these facts or ignore them, Americans are starting to understand Obama's strange dependence on her. Insiders agree, Jarrett and Michelle Obama run the Administration.

Dr. Kate lost her job and went into hiding. What else does one do when Obama's puppet master points her finger in your face and tells your employers to fire you? For a while Dr. Kate was afraid for her life, and no wonder; death threats and hateful rhetoric followed her everywhere. Like others, including me, who question Obama's background, she was labeled a 'birther' and became a target of Obama operatives bent on intimidating, ridiculing and marginalizing her into silence. Without a job, little hope of finding one and getting barraged daily with hate mail and attacks on her website and threats to her life on radical left-wing websites, Dr. Kate moved to an undisclosed location in another state. But Kate is no longer hiding out. She blogs daily about Obama's crimes against the Constitution and hosts a radio show each week. Unwilling to let our country go down without a fight, she is truly a brave warrior and a patriot committing her life, her fortune and her sacred honor.

I'm originally from Hawai'i and so it was easy for me to notice discrepancies concerning Obama's birth narrative that most people on the mainland might not. I said then and still say that the Certification of Live Birth was a forgery and so is the long form Certificate of Live Birth posted on the WhiteHouse.gov website. The first and only law enforcement investigation into the discrepancies in Obama's records resulted in proof of forgery. Of course this is not news to people who will read this.

Just as I can speak for what is going on in Hawai'i, I can speak to the plight of native Americans since making my home here in Oklahoma for the past 17 years. The outrageous claims that Muslims are indigenous and played a role in founding the United States, as Obama and democrats have claimed, is disgusting. Worse, it's frightening when so many of our elected leaders can't see that the Islamization of America is spreading across our nation like an evil, insidious cloud.

It's high time we knocked some sense into those so-called representatives and call them out when they suggest we should embrace our fellow Americans no matter their religion or culture. That's exactly what happened to Sen. Tom Coburn when a patriot took him to task for suggesting we show Muslims "love." It was not a good Town Hall in Claremore, Oklahoma, for Tom Coburn a couple of weeks ago. He got some sense knocked into him by yours truly and a handful of TEA Party patriots.

The native Americans I interact with every day in my community are more outspoken than they've ever been about politics, and it's Obama they are railing against. The hope and change Obama espoused has turned into yet another broken promise to native Americans. Unemployment has hit them especially hard and the cost of living is skyrocketing, especially energy costs. Most Indians I know work for a living and their quality of life is being driven down by Obama and the policies of his regime, just like the rest of us. And now even their heritage is being displaced by Muslims, Obama's chosen people. Native Americans turned out for Obama in 2008 but they won't have much enthusiasm for him this November. Many have gotten his message and heard his promise made in his book: "I will stand with the Muslims should the political winds shift in an ugly direction."
