further, I found an additional eight social security numbers. One of the numbers had (Deceased) behind it. I was able to find the name of the person the SSN actually belonged to and printed it from the Social Security Administration death index.

6. I researched social security numbers for Michelle Obama. When I ran her name, two different social security numbers appeared for her, including one that does not belong to her but is listed for her at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D.C.

7. The true and correct copies I personally obtained are attached.

8. I solemnly swear under penalty of perjury that all the facts stated and circumstances described above are true and correct statements.

9. I have not received any compensation for making this affidavit.

Further, Affiant saith naught.

Signed and executed in Mentor, OH on this 19th day of October, 2009.

NATIONAL ASSEMBLY

OFFICIAL REPORT

Thursday, 25th March, 2010

The House met at 2.30 p.m.

[Mr. Speaker in the Chair]

PRAYERS

PETITION

Dr. Khalwale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I stand here to make a petition on behalf of Kiborowa squatters who are a group of squatters from Trans Nzoia District under an organization called Kiborowa Squatters Alliance. The squatters reside in the rural and peri-urban slums within Trans Nzoia and like our forefathers, remain landless and living under deplorable conditions. Some of those squatters are temporary labourers on the former colonial settler farms now popularly called Agricultural Development Corporation (ADC) farms. Our girls and women are raped and forced into prostitution and early marriages, occasioning high instances of HIV/AIDS and gender biased violence. There are high poverty levels leading to early school dropouts and childhood labour. Despite those squatters making several presentations to the Government with assurances from district commissioners, permanent secretaries and Ministers for Land and Settlement since Independence, our people have yet to see any positive action. We are, therefore, praying through this petition for your humble intervention as a House, so that the Government of the Republic of Kenya may immediately settle all the squatters on the following ADC farms: Sabwani, Sekhendu and Olingatongo ADC farms. We are also praying that the Government restrains those Members of Parliament who are inciting members from non-squatter communities to invade those farms.

Mr. Speaker: Order, Dr. Khalwale! You caught my eye to present a petition, but I am in doubt as to whether or not you have, in fact, complied with Standing Order No.204. At least, I have no indication from the Clerk of the National Assembly, which I normally have as a matter of practice, that you have complied with Standing Order No.204. Can you satisfy me that you have done so?

Dr. Khalwale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this petition was presented to the Office of the Clerk. He went through it and marked it to the Speaker of the National Assembly. The Office of the Speaker of the National Assembly marked it to Mr. Ndombi who is in the legal arm of Parliament. Mr. Ndombi invited me to his office. We went through this petition and I am glad to confirm that we have complied to the letter, to the requirements of that Standing Order.

Mr. Speaker: Can you, please, let me have a look at the petition to be satisfied that those steps have been taken?

Dr. Khalwale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, after I conclude or before?

the way to look at devolution is about governance. If at all we take this Constitution without looking at the elements of devolution properly, then I am afraid we have missed the boat. We should be very courageous and brave because in 1963, resources were going to the regions. It was not by changing the Constitution that the regions went but by starving the regions of funds and even the power to tax the regions. That is how the regions were killed. But when the regions were working, even hon. Ngala was feeling better and safer as the president of the Coast region rather than being a Member of Parliament here.

The other thing that we are addressing through devolution is exclusion. What has made us suffer as a nation is exclusion. Once people feel excluded, even when you want to employ a policeman or constable or you want to build a dispensary, it must come from the centre. In the colonial days, these things were being done on the ground and they could give bursaries and build roads. I commend devolution. Those who fear devolution are living in the past. They are being guided by their ethnic consideration and objectives. They are living in the past. If America was living in a situation where they feared ethnicity and did not see itself as a multiparty state or nation, how could a young man born here in Kenya, who is not even a native American, become the President of America? It is because they did away with exclusion. What has killed us here is exclusion; that once Mr. Orengo is President, I know of no other place than Ugenya. That is why we were fighting against these many Presidencies in the past. I hope that Kenya will come of age. This country must come of age. People want freedom and nations want liberation, but countries want independence.

I beg to support.

Prof. Kamar: Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, for giving me the opportunity to contribute to this historic Motion. I would like to support it with amendments and I will be mentioning which ones.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, allow me, first, to congratulate those who have participated in the process of Constitution-making in this country. I want to recognize the veterans – the Orengos and Imanyaras – past and present. I also want to remember to recognize the Bomas group of delegates that gave us the first Draft (2004). I also want to remember the Committee of Experts (CoE) and our own Parliamentary Select Committee. These people have done a commendable job. The Constitution making process has been very long and tedious. Sometimes it has been acrimonious and tempers have gone up and down. But all in all, the process has brought us this far and we must thank God for that.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is instructive to note that while it has taken a very long time, there are some areas that have consistently remained in all the drafts that we have today. As we consider that, we are reminded of why Kenyans wanted to have a Constitution, to begin with. In the preamble, there is a statement that says: “We, the people of Kenya adopt, enact and give to ourselves and our future generation this Constitution.”

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we must ensure that Kenyans get a new Constitution that will serve them and the future generations. How do we ensure this? We must ensure this by ensuring that the Proposed Constitution is good for all, fair to all and serves all. This may require the spirit of give and take, but it must all be inclusive and non exclusive. The eyes of the nation are focused on this House. We must rise to the occasion

by BEN SHAPIRO (COLUMNIST) | BORN IN KENYA AND RAISED IN INDONESIA AND HAWAII | 17 May 2012 | 3017 COMMENTS

Note from Senior Management:

Andrew Breitbart was never a "Birther," and Breitbart News is a site that has never advocated the narrative of "Birtherism." In fact, Andrew believed, as we do, that President Barack Obama was born in Honolulu, Hawaii, on August 4, 1961.

Yet Andrew also believed that the complicit mainstream media had refused to examine President Obama's ideological past, or the carefully crafted persona he and his advisers had constructed for him.

It is for that reason that we launched "The Vetting," an ongoing series in which we explore the ideological background of President Obama (and other presidential candidates)--not to re-litigate 2008, but because ideas and actions have consequences.

It is also in that spirit that we discovered, and now present, the booklet described below--one that includes a marketing pitch for a forthcoming book by a then-young, otherwise unknown former president of the Harvard Law Review.

It is evidence--not of the President's foreign origin, but that Barack Obama's public persona has perhaps been presented differently at different times.

'THE HOPE AND THE CHANGE'

Writer/Director Stephen K. Bannon, former Democrat pollster Pat Caddell and I were interviewed by Hannity about the film he called the best documentary he has ever seen. During the one hour special, viewers saw exclusive clips from the film and heard several members of the 40 person cast go into greater detail about why they've given up on Obama.

several times over several days. Her calls are screened by an automated service that requires callers to state their name and company, which we did. She never answered.

The design of the booklet was undertaken by Richard Bellsey, who has since closed his business. Bellsey, reached by telephone, could not recall the exact details of the booklet, but told Breitbart News that it "sounds like one of our jobs, like I did for [Acton & Dystel] twenty years ago or more."

The parade of authors alongside Obama in the booklet includes politicians, such as former Speaker of the House Tip O'Neill; sports legends, such as Joe Montana and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar; and numerous Hollywood celebrities.

The reverse side of the page that features Barack Obama includes former Green Party presidential candidate Ralph Nader and early-1990s "boy band" pop sensation New Kids On the Block.

Acton, who spoke to Breitbart News by telephone, confirmed precise details of the booklet and said that it cost the agency tens of thousands of dollars to produce.

He indicated that while "almost nobody" wrote his or her own biography, the non-athletes in the booklet, whom "the agents deal [t] with on a daily basis," were "probably" approached to approve the text as presented.

Dystel did not respond to numerous requests for comment, via email and telephone. Her assistant told Breitbart News that Dystel "does not answer questions about Obama."

The errant Obama biography in the Acton & Dystel booklet does not contradict the authenticity of Obama's birth certificate. Moreover, several contemporaneous accounts (<http://ironicsurrealism.com/2012/03/14/obama-1990-interview-were-going-to-reshape-mean-spirited-america/>) of Obama's background describe Obama as having been born in Hawaii (<http://www.nytimes.com/1990/02/06/us/first-black-elected-to-head-harvard-s-law-review.html>).

The biography does, however, fit a pattern in which Obama--or the people representing and supporting him--manipulate his public persona.

David Maraniss's forthcoming biography of Obama has reportedly confirmed (<http://www.vanityfair.com/politics/2012/06/young-barack-obama-in-love-david-maraniss>), for example, that a girlfriend Obama described in Dreams from My Father was, in fact, an amalgam of several separate individuals.

In addition, Obama and his handlers have a history of redefining his identity when expedient. In March 2008, for example, he famously declared (<http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2008/03/18/obama-race-speech-read-4th-march-2007.html>): "I can no more disown [Jeremiah Wright] than I can disown the black community. I can no more disown him than I can my white grandmother."

Dear Ms. Taitz:

An attorney for the State Bar's Office of the Chief Trial Counsel has reviewed your complaint against Scott Tepper to determine whether there are sufficient grounds for proceeding to prosecute a possible violation of the State Bar Act and/or Rules of Professional Conduct.

You informed us that Mr. Tepper who is admitted pro hac vice in Mississippi submitted forged documents regarding President Obama's birth certificate to the federal court. You state that Mr. Tepper submitted the forged documents to defraud U.S. District Judge Henry Travillion Wingate and Honorable Magistrate Judge Linda R. Anderson and the public.

Based on our evaluation of the information provided, we are closing your file. The issue you raised is best addressed by the court hearing the matter. The State Bar cannot determine the validity of the document that was presented to the court. Your complaint also concerns a matter of national security which is beyond the scope of the State Bar. You have properly raised your concerns with the District Attorney and the Department of Justice.

For these reasons, the State Bar is closing this matter.

If you have any questions or disagree with the decision to close your complaint or have new information or other allegations not included in your initial complaint, you have two options. For immediate assistance, the first option is to speak directly with a Complaint Analyst. You may leave a voice message with S. Chen at (213) 765-1285. Be sure to clearly identify the lawyer complained of, the case number assigned, and your telephone number including the area code in your voice message. The Complaint Analyst will return your call within 2 business days.

The second option is to request the State Bar's Audit & Review Unit to review your complaint. An attorney may re-open your complaint if he or she determines that you presented new, significant evidence about your complaint or that the State Bar closed your complaint without any basis. You must submit your request for review with the new evidence or a showing that closing your complaint was made without any basis. To request review, you must submit your request in writing, together with any new evidence, post-marked within 90 days of the date of this letter, to:

Birther Queen Orly Taitz's Big Comeback on California Senate Ballot

by John Avlon

Orly Taitz, the mastermind behind the conspiracy theory that Obama wasn't born in the United States, could finish in the top two in California's Senate primary Tuesday. John Avlon says it's time to stop the insanity.

Comments 0 Tweet 60 Like 362

She's baack.

Orly Taitz, queen of the birthers, is on the ballot Tuesday in California. She is running as a Republican to challenge Sen. Dianne Feinstein for reelection. And polls show that Taitz just might make the top-two cut and be an official challenger in the fall.

Seriously.

PLAY NOW

It's hard to overstate just how bad that would be for the Golden State GOP.

An avowed birther activist and litigant, dentist, attorney, mother of three, and Moldovan immigrant who radiates instability could be the standard-bearer of the party of Reagan in the largest state in the nation. Is this a great country or what?

I've met Taitz, debating her on-air once and spending an hour at her law office/dental practice in the hills of Rancho

Santa Margarita while I was researching Wingnuts. She is not unintelligent and is almost charmingly insane, proudly showing off prominent alleged Facebook friends and then comparing Obama to Stalin, all while passing over hundreds of pages of Xeroxed documents she has sent to governors of all 50 states and the entire U.S. Senate. The packet details accusations including impersonation of a military officer, libel, defamation of character, harassment, breaking into the computer system of the Supreme Court, voter fraud, and forgery, concluding: "Verify the above facts brought forward by me and demand Obama/Soetoro's immediate resignation or removal from office due to fraud and constitutional inability. National security and national survival depends on your expedient actions...."

In other words, nut-balls. Orly Taitz as a candidate for U.S. Senate would make Christine O'Donnell look like Henry Clay. She would make Sharron Angle look like Daniel Webster. Donald Trump seems a model of restraint by comparison.

This is funny, but it's also sad. This is what happens when you burn down the big tent. The sideshow takes over.

The California Republican Party has a long and distinguished tradition, from Hiram Johnson to Earl Warren to Richard Nixon to Ronald Reagan to Pete Wilson. It was once the quintessential big tent, though it contained plenty of ideological disagreements. Most important, it won elections, appealing right and center.

Attorney Orly Taitz speaks to the media outside the Ninth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Pasadena, Calif., May 2, 2011. (AP/Wide World)

But a recent spate of RINO-hunting, combined with the national drift of the GOP away from the center, has helped make California functionally a one-party state.

True, in 2010, both Meg Whitman and Carly Fiorina were on the ballot, raising boatloads of cash and generating some buzz. But their twin losses in that Tea Party year seem to have constituted a Do Not Enter sign for candidates considering a run in a presidential-election cycle that Obama is expected to win in a California landslide.

So despite all the talent, imagination, ambition, and money that gravitates to the Golden State, the world's eighth-largest economy, the Republicans can't recruit a serious top-tier candidate to run for United States Senate. This is pathetic.

Orly Taitz could sneak in under the radar and be a radioactive distraction throughout 2012. And I sincerely hope this doesn't come true.

To the California GOP's credit, it is hoping and praying that Taitz doesn't win. The state party endorsed autism-activist Elizabeth Emken, a first-time candidate who nonetheless boasts essentially sensible center-right policies. She wouldn't beat Feinstein, but at least she wouldn't be a national embarrassment.

In the crowded top-two open primary, Emken and Taitz will be competing with 14 other Republicans to run against the popular three-term senator, who is 78 years old. But in such a crowded no-name field, a fringe candidate with relatively high name ID and an intense if extremely narrow base of support could make a dent. The new top-two process isn't the problem; other states have used it effectively for years. The problem is the lack of serious candidates. I wish that someone like retiring Republican

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION ALL-STARS

Rep. David Drier had thrown his hat in the ring, if only to preserve the integrity of the general election.

The possibility that Taitz could end up being the Republican challenger to Feinstein is raising a slapstick sense of despair from California conservatives, especially on the libertarian wing of things.

"In California it's possible to find thousands of people willing to wake up at 4 o'clock in the morning, dress up in chicken suits, and wait in line all day just to watch a taping of Let's Make a Deal, but the California GOP can't find one termed-out state legislator, redistricted congressman, or dot-com weenie willing to run against Dianne Feinstein," says John Phillips, a host at talk radio 790 KABC in Los Angeles.

"The same party that brought the world Dick Nixon, Ronald Reagan, and Pete Wilson could now nominate a woman for statewide office who is bat-shit crazy. It's beyond embarrassing, it's suicidal," Phillips adds. "The California Republican Party is officially in the Terri Schiavo stage of its life."

So it's not just me.

Because of the lack of serious California Senate candidates, attention is elsewhere on this Election Day. There are congressional primaries courtesy of the first-ever independent redistricting effort in California. Nationally, all eyes are on Wisconsin's high-stakes recall election. But Orly Taitz could sneak in under the radar and be a radioactive distraction throughout 2012. And I sincerely hope this doesn't come true. Because contrary to what some critics think, I don't like writing about crazy. The freak beat only matters when the extremes start to intrude on mainstream debates, when the fringe starts to blur with the base. And that's been happening too much lately.

A few weeks ago, I was happy to see the Arizona secretary of state finally call off the inquisition on the birth certificate and acknowledge that the president was born in Hawaii. I hoped that would settle the matter once and for all. Then Trump started bloviating his birther theories on every station he could call into while the Romney campaign escorted him around like a prom date, and the issue was again ignited.

It's time to stop the insanity. So I'm hoping that the primary voters of California do not elevate a conspiracy theorist to a general election for U.S. Senate. Those of you who think it would be funny to put forward a clownishly unelectable candidate—and those of you who think that Taitz is somehow strangely speaking truth to power—think of your state. Think of your country.

Not having a credible candidate bother to run for the U.S. Senate is bad. Having a demonstrably unhinged person gain a nomination is worse. It degrades our democracy. It's pathetic that we even need to entertain this possibility. We can do better—and we need to do better. Seriously.

The California Ballot and the Furtwängler Principle [Updated]

16 comments, 5 called-out + Comment now

Today's primary election day in California, and the ballot includes the usual selection of lunatics sprinkled in among the vast throng of candidates who should probably all be rejected for more traditional reasons.

You may have heard of some of those running for president, including the current guy, a Nobel Peace Prize winner and liberal Democrat committed to "transparency" who has gone to war without Congressional approval at least once, signed a bill that allows the indefinite military detention of American citizens, has a secret "kill list" that includes American citizens and has actually killed at least three American citizens, which may or may not have been legal according to a memo that you're not allowed to see. And this might still be the least stupid vote you could cast.

Mitt Romney, of course, has the GOP nomination locked up, but Ron Paul, Newt Gingrich and Rick Santorum are all still on the ballot, it appears, along with Buddy Roemer, Libertarian Party candidate Gary Johnson (who at least has the good sense to support legalizing a drug most of these people have used anyway) and Fred Karger. Wait, who?

Why, Fred Karger, the first openly gay man to run for president since Dick Gephardt, and certainly the first openly gay Republican man to run for president. Given that he is an openly gay Republican whose Huffington Post editorial yesterday was entitled "Why I Am Still Running for President," his chances probably are not great, but on the other hand he does not appear to be crazy and is the only GOP candidate other than Romney who is still actively running. You never know.

I'm sort of a libertarian, but I still probably wouldn't vote for Green Party candidate Dr. Kent Mesplay. Seems like a rational person but he was born in Papua New Guinea. Both his parents were U.S. citizens (or so he claims) so does that make him a "natural-born citizen"? I think so, but Papua New Guinea? We have enough trouble with people trying to get birth certificates out of Hawaii. Amusingly, another Green Party candidate is named “Roseanne Barr,” but this is certainly not the same — oh. Seriously? Seriously. “She is the lone voice of courage and reason who is unstoppable [the others seem to be stoppable] as she holds corporate-funded politicians feet to the fire,” she says, so maybe you should overlook her known shrillness and her unreasoning hatred of apostrophes.

Hey, did you know there are 25 people running for president on the California ballot, and that the full list of candidates is 148 pages long? I sure as hell didn’t when I started writing this. I have at least scanned the whole thing and it seems to confirm my belief that it’s the presidency and the Senate that really brings them out of the woodwork. The unsurprising exception may be San Francisco, where “Summer Justice Shields” is running for Nancy Pelosi’s House seat. Shields is listed as a Democrat but I see her campaign announcement was mentioned on LaRouchePAC.com. If she’s a Lyndon LaRouche supporter, then she’s a nut. (These days, LaRouche appears to be pushing something called “The Furtwängler Principle,” which I support wholeheartedly just based on the name. It also has the benefit of being totally incomprehensible.)

The most reliable source of loons is usually the American Independent Party, which previously featured Alan Keyes among its inmates but now has to be satisfied with “Mad Max” Reikse, of Fruitport, Michigan. Not much information seems to be available about Mad Max, who may recently have switched to the AIP from the Citizens Party. The Citizens Party website has a group page called “Mad Max Reikse for President 2012,” a group that currently has ten members including “Free the Toss Salad Man.” I wasn’t able to view Free the Toss Salad Man’s profile without logging in, which I had no intention of doing, but I would like to see him on the same ticket as The Rent Is Too Damn High Guy.

Finally, and this is why I started this thing in the first place, famed Birther-activist and naturalized-Moldovan-lawyer-dentist Orly Taitz is running for the Senate. She hopes to run against Dianne Feinstein, and according to some polls she may actually get the chance. California has a “top-two” primary, meaning all candidates run on the same ballot and the top two then face off in November. Feinstein will be number one, and there are 23 other candidates vying for number two. As no one else has any name recognition at all, there is some concern — including in the GOP — that Taitz might eke out enough votes to stay around until November. She does have a long record of losing, but also a long record of being undeterred by it.

An official Taitz run would be amusing but also disturbing, as John Avlon writes at the Daily Beast. That piece is worth reading partly for its comical descriptions of Taitz as “almost charmingly insane,” “demonstrably unhinged,” “clownishly unelectable,” and a candidate who “would make Sharron Angle look like Daniel Webster.” As amusing as that might be, though, Taitz doesn’t deserve any more attention. Avlon says the California GOP is endorsing Elizabeth Emken, so maybe she’s the best alternative if you’re not a Feinsteinian.

Personally, I’m reserving judgment until I know where all these people stand on The Furtwängler Principle. Or at least what it means.

Update I: Note — just kidding about Gephardt. His name just popped into my brain and that is completely random. Really.

Mr. Collins,

In answer to your question regarding the birth date being out of range, we do consider those individuals as registered voters and they do receive voter information. I understand that many years ago, if there was not a birth date, the system would go back to the year 1900. That is why you see some birth dates out of range.

To: ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~

Good afternoon,

It seems that I mis-spoke (or typed). Please see the response below from a Division Manager in our Election Bureau.

The Federal Voting registration form do not request a birthplace. In my response I stated that if the person indicates that h/she is a US Citizen, then our data entry operator will update the applicant file with the birthplace US. The applicant do not list their birthplace as there is no place on the form for that information. If the person still insist on a copy, it is on our SOS website.

Redistricting 101 - Non-Citizens & Political Representation

Print This Page

Non-Citizens Political Representation

Redistricting is based on the premise that there is equal representation for equal numbers of people. The redistricting process is not intended solely to protect the voting power of citizens. Non-citizens, as well as citizens, should count for purposes of apportionment.

Do non-citizens get political representation too?

Yes, non-citizens get political representation even if they are not eligible to vote. Non-citizens are "persons" under the Constitution and are entitled to protection under our laws. Despite this constitutional promise, immigrants have been the target of increasing anti-immigrant rhetoric and laws in our nation. When Congress failed to pass comprehensive immigration reform in 2006, some states and local governments passed laws targeting immigrants. Some of those laws required proof of legal status to rent housing or prohibited laborers from gathering on streets to solicit work. Members of Congress also attempted to pass legislation that would exclude non-citizens from being counted in the re-apportionment process.

How many non-citizens live in America currently?

The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) provides the most current statistics on the number of immigrants living in the United States. According to the DHS, as of January 1, 2008, the number of non-citizens equaled approximately 11.3 million (19.7 million legal residents and approximately 11.6 million unauthorized immigrants). Most legal permanent residents are eligible for naturalization after a minimum of five years of residence or three years if they are married to a U.S. citizen. Immigrants who are allowed to live in the United States but are not given permanent residence include individuals authorized to work or temporary visitors. All people working in the United States, regardless of immigration status, are obligated to pay taxes.

Do states have to use total population data to draw districts? Can states just use data on citizens since they are the ones eligible to vote?

As a preliminary matter, if a state decides to exclude non-citizens from the redistricting base while including other non-voters, such actions could be deemed discriminatory or unconstitutional. It also amounts to "taxation without representation."

Depending on the region of the U.S., states have the option to use either the total population or the citizen population in apportioning districts. In certain jurisdictions, including those within the Ninth Circuit, all persons must be counted for determining the size of political districts. However, not all jurisdictions have adopted this standard. Those jurisdictions within the Fifth Circuit have the option of counting all persons or those who are eligible to vote.

Why should non-citizens be considered in redistricting?

Non-citizens are "persons" under the Constitution and are entitled to protection under our laws.

Non-citizens have many opportunities for civic participation, even though they cannot vote in most jurisdictions. They can participate in public hearings and government meetings and meet with their elected representatives. A number of jurisdictions around the country allow non-citizens to vote in local elections. Non-citizens are allowed to vote for local school boards in Chicago and they have been allowed to vote in Takoma Park, Maryland in local elections since 1992. Other small communities in Maryland allow non-citizen voting as well. In City Heights, California all residents are allowed to vote for members of the Planning Committee. In New York, non-citizens were allowed to vote in community school board elections for more than three decades before Mayor Bloomberg dismantled the school board in 2003. In 2010, non-citizen parents were allowed to vote in an election to determine what organizations would run low-performing schools in the Los Angeles Unified School District. Moreover, elected officials have a duty to represent everyone in their district, not just the people who voted for them, not just the people who are old enough to vote, and not just the people who are citizens.

Pew Study: 24 Million Voter Registrations Are Invalid

Pew Center on the States, Voter Report, October 10, 2012

Approximately 24 million active voter registrations in the United States are no longer valid or have significant inaccuracies, according to the Pew Center on the States. Research in Pew's report, Inaccurate, Costly, and Inefficient, underscores the need for registration systems that better maintain voter records, save money, and streamline processes. This is an effort that eight states are spearheading with Pew's support.

The report highlights the challenges nationwide:

- At least 51 million eligible citizens remain unregistered—more than 24 percent of the eligible population.
- More than 1.8 million deceased individuals are listed as active voters.
- Approximately 2.75 million people have active registrations in more than one state.
- About 12 million records have incorrect addresses, meaning either the voters moved, or errors in the information make it unlikely any mailings can reach them.

4. I did execute upon that data and SQL statement to return all voters that had a birth date that was either blank (no birth date in the required field) or having a birth date in the required field and that birth date met the criteria of being older then 110 years.
5. I do state that the data returned showed a large number of registered voters having a birth date of 1850 – 1890. Many of these registered voters were shown to have been voting by absentee ballots.

Affidavit

VPertoso

I, Vincent Carmen Pertoso am over 18 years old and a resident of 95 Pleasant View Rd, Derby Connecticut. I am of sound mind and do not suffer from any mental disease or mental impairment make the following statement as an expert in software test and evaluation. My expertise is derived through education and as a Test & Evaluation Engineer for 35 years.

During my career I worked for the State of Florida Department of Elections (DOE) as a Quality Assurance Subject Matter Expert (SME) consultant in software and hardware test and evaluation. At DOE Florida I interviewed other voting system SMEs in government and academia concerning voting machine development standards and requirements. Based on those interviews I coauthored a technical report for DOE Florida that contained recommendations on changes to Federal and State voting machine development standards, requirements, and system deployment. Also I authored a report outlining the Quality Assurance methodology process to produce and deploy voting systems for DOE Florida. Prior to this I worked for the US NAVAL Surface Warfare Center in Dahlgren VA as a System Test & Evaluation Engineer where I was considered a SME on the test and evaluation of the missile fire control system known as the Vertical Launching System now deployed on AEGIS ships of the United States Navy.

Based on my experience and knowledge concerning voting system software and hardware test and evaluation I state under the penalty of perjury the following:

Current voting systems use commercial hardware and software components made all over the world. The commercial hardware and software components are vulnerable and routinely successfully attacked by hackers. Worldwide manufacturers of commercial software and integrated chips can imbed aberrant code in the software and aberrant circuitry in the integrated chips. The compromised components just mentioned once in a voting system can then be used to alter election results. In some cases the violation of security once established in a voting system can be undetectable no matter how rigorous the government voting standards are made or testing performed. Also most voting systems fielded today are not adequately designed for auditability and require robust support for maintaining the integrity of event logs, vote data and ballot configuration data.

Therefore it is reasonable to deduce that voting systems and ballot counting machines can currently be rigged with aberrant software code, aberrant imbedded circuitry on the circuit boards, or aberrant imbedded circuitry in the integrated chips used, either of which can alter the vote count.
