

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE FIRST JUDICIAL DISTRICT OF HINDS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

DR. ORLY TAITZ, ESQ

PLAINTIFF

VS.

CIVIL ACTION NO. 251-12-107 CIV

DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF MISSISSIPPI,
SECRETARY OF STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

DEFENDANTS

MISSISSIPPI DEMOCRATIC PARTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE'S MOTION IN LIMINE

COMES NOW the Defendant, the Mississippi Democratic Party Executive Committee, by and through its undersigned attorney, and hereby moves the Court to allow it to cross examine the Plaintiff, under oath, during the hearing on this matter, concerning any dealings that the Plaintiff has had with any persons or entities that have economically induced her to prosecute this civil action, and other civil actions, either as counsel or plaintiff, alleging that President Obama is not a “natural born citizen” of the United States under the United States Constitution and that there exist great acts of fraud and criminality surrounding representations of his birth and nationality.

Miss. Code Ann. § 97-9-11 prohibits the practice of champerty¹, maintenance² and barratry³, making it a crime for any person or organization to solicit, request or donate any money or any other thing of value, or any other assistance, as an inducement to any person, such as the Plaintiff, to commence or prosecute any proceeding in any court in the State of Mississippi. As 1 Champerty is defined as an agreement between an officious intermeddler in a lawsuit and a litigant by which the intermeddler helps pursue the litigant's claim as consideration for receiving part of any judgment proceeds; specif., an agreement to divide litigation proceeds between the owner of the litigated claim and a party unrelated to the lawsuit who supports or helps enforce the claim. Black's Law Dictionary (9th ed. 2009).

2 Maintenance is defined as improper assistance in prosecuting or defending a lawsuit given to a litigant by someone who has no bona fide interest in the case; meddling in someone else's litigation. Id.

3 Barratry is defined as vexatious incitement to litigation, esp. by soliciting potential legal clients. Id.

will be noted below, the Plaintiff is using the media attention she receives from filing lawsuits questioning the legitimacy of the President for the primary purpose of generating monetary contributions to support her “celebrity” and her declared candidacy for the 2012 United States Senate election in California. See candidate website, Exhibit 1, attached.

As indicated in our Motion for Sanctions, a plaintiff in Mississippi may not file a frivolous lawsuit, especially where existing case decisions, including those in which the Plaintiff was a party, unequivocally prohibit the claim. In re Spencer, 985 So.2d 330 (Miss. 2008) (pleading is frivolous when a party has no hope of success). As our Motion to Dismiss sets forth in detail, the Plaintiff and persons like her have had each and every one of their myriad “birther” lawsuits dismissed.

Neither Court, the State of Mississippi, the Mississippi Democratic Party, nor President Obama should be made to suffer a baseless, unsupportable lawsuit. Clearly, the Plaintiff’s lawsuit is an abuse of process—designed to stir up bigotry, hate and conspiracy theories and to advance her “celebrity” and candidacy for the United States Senate. Central Healthcare Services, P.A. v. Citizens Bank of Philadelphia, 12 So.3d 1159, 1167 (Miss. App. 2009) (crucial element of cause of action for abuse of process is the intent to abuse the privilege of the legal system).

The Plaintiff is a prolific “birther” litigant. Her discussions of her lawsuits fuel her website, found at www.orlytaitzesq.com, which boasts being the “World’s Leading Obama Eligibility Challenge Web Site.” See Exhibit 2, attached. The website solicits contributors to mail donations to the “Defend our Freedoms Foundation,” in care of the Plaintiff, and even authorizes payments through Mastercard, Visa and American Express. Additionally, there is an extensive Wikipedia webpage describing the Plaintiff’s many court proceedings involving the “birther” issue. See Exhibit 3, attached. A search of Westlaw reveals twenty-one cases filed since 2009. See Exhibit 4, attached.

By cross examining the Plaintiff, the Defendant seeks to determine from whom Plaintiff has received financial assistance and whether such contributions have induced her to file these frivolous lawsuits. We reasonably believe that sworn testimony from the Plaintiff will lay the foundation for the imposition of sanctions, warrant a future claim for abuse of process, and perhaps lead to criminal prosecution under Miss. Code Ann. § 97-9-11.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, the Defendant prays that its Motion in Limine will be granted as described above.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED, this the 22nd day of March, 2012.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, DEFENDANT

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, who comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat."

U.S. Senate Candidate Dr. Orly Taitz

I am not a career politician. I am a businesswoman, a licensed attorney and a licensed doctor of Dental Surgery, a wife and a mother. For 25 years my husband and I have raised our 3 sons in California. I am running, because I want young people of the Golden state to have the opportunities that we had in Reagan Golden era.

As long as the same career politicians continue representing us, we will continue losing American jobs and gaining American debts. My 3 main goals: jobs, jobs, jobs. I will seek 5 years moratorium on taxation on any company repatriating to US and companies creating new American jobs. For every dollar in tax revenues on newly created jobs for the U.S. citizens, there will be a dollar in taxation credit for the companies. No more crushing debt on our children, no more regulations killing American jobs.

As an attorney I showed courage in fighting for your Constitutional rights. Recently a judge upheld my subpoena for Barack Obama to appear at trial and provide his identification papers. You deserve the truth, respect and answers: why Barack Obama is using a Connecticut Social Security number, which was never assigned to him according to E-verify, why his alleged copy of a birth certificate is deemed to be a computer generated forgery, why his school records show him as an Indonesian citizen and many others. If you want your government accountable to you, vote Orly Taitz!

Criminal Complaint sent to AG of MS.

Dr. Orly Taitz, Esq. is the Best GOP Candidate in CA for U.S. Senate

Dr. Taitz has proven many times that she's not afraid of Obama. She relentlessly challenges him in courts to prove his eligibility that he's natural born citizen and therefore qualified to be president of the United States. As U.S. Senator, she will have the stature to fight Obama in the U.S. Senate, should he win reelection. And if he doesn't, she will make sure that nobody ever becomes president of the United States again without a valid birth certificate.

Dr. Taitz' main primary opponent is Elizabeth Emken. What has she accomplished? She's an advocate for the special needs of Autism. That's it. If she becomes U.S. Senator, she will work for more spending for Autism, SSI, Medi-Cal and more social entitlements. This will mean more taxes to pay for these expenses. Already many corporations are leaving CA to move to business-friendly states. And when corporations leave, there will be more unemployment in CA. Elizabeth Emken should join the Democrat Party. They have the same socialist agenda. – Chito Papa

Dr. Orly Taitz is prosecuting currently 7 cases in multiple states

Posted on | March 22, 2012 | No Comments

Multiple cases are scheduled around the country. I made over 50 trips around the country prosecuting cases, meeting with the elections boards, elected officials
I am currently running as the leading candidate for the Republican nomination for the US Senate I toured 9 cities in CA and I am scheduled to tour 22 cities in CA
I still have to run my practice to pay for all my pro bono work.

Your donations are essential for me to be able to continue. i am planning to file notices to appear to Sheriff Arpaio and his investigator Mike Zullo. I hope this time there will be no games and at least one of them will appear in court and will testify under penalty of perjury before the judge. You can't remove the president with a book signing tour. You can achieve anything by providing evidence to the judicial branch: DA, AG, judges in court. So far Sheriff Arpaio did not provide his evidence to any DA or AG with a criminal complaint for prosecution. i hope he or Zullo will appear before special judge Coleman in MS, so that based on their expert opinion he will remove Obama from the ballot in MS and will start the process of removing him all over the country. Please contact Arpaio and Zullo and demand that they cooperate and appear at trial. Please, help me succeed in the cases below:

1. MS April 16 hearing before special judge Coleman
2. GA Supreme court of GA

- 3. IN Marion county Circuit court
- 4. District of Columbia circuit against commissioner of Social Security Michael Astrue
- 5. District of Columbia circuit against the White House counsel Kathy Ryuemmler
- 6. NH Motion for reconsideration Basllot law commission
- 7. CA Taitz v Dunn April 18th

Discourse and Conflict: The President BO Birth Certificate controversy and the new media: Signed by 4 PHD's Western Kentucky U. Page 26:

In the case of President Obama's natal narrative, a similar campaign of obfuscation has actively and admittedly been pursued by most of the major media, despite all evidence to the contrary. Groups like FactCheck.Org have a so-called Certification of Live Birth available on their website that purports to prove the President's birth in Hawaii in 1961. The widespread media hyping of this forgery during the presidential elections of 2008 has led to several claims, none of which have any basis in reality.

"The Obama administration has placed his birth documentation online."

In fact, neither the State of Hawaii, nor the Obama administration has ever claimed the purported document as theirs. A simple comparison shows the document is not a Hawaii, state-issued, document.

"The C.O.L.B. has been certified by the State of Hawaii and contains a Notary Seal from the State."

27

Fact: Contrary to several media reports, it does not.

"The State of Hawaii changed the birth certificate documents. These are the new ones."

Fact: The C.O.L.B. document is dated 2007. Two years before the laws were changed in 2009.

So you can see, dearest reader, how misdirection and outright falsehood becomes accepted and common wisdom. "But you can't be claiming that _____, (insert any of your favored media talking heads, news programs, or media channels here) LIE, DO YOU? Well, all I can say to you, Dear reader, is get over it. This barrage of media bullshit has left the following discourse as typical public dialogue:

ME: "President Barack Obama's birth certificate is NOT on file at the State of Hawaii Dept. of Health. It simply does not exist."

THEM: "President Obama placed his birth certificate online. Anyone can see it."

ME: "Sure he did. And I have a bridge to sell you too."

THEM: "Funny buddy, have fun living in the twilight zone."

Please, contact CRA board members, tell them to grow some spine and get in sinc with the people. Standing up for the rule of law against the Chicago mob is not controversial, it's the right thing to do!

Posted on | March 21, 2012 | No Comments

Orly, I sure hope that the CRA Board gives you fair and equal treatment at the endorsing convention. As far as I know, the endorsements are done on the Sunday schedule. I know from emails where I was included via Bcc, that some Board members that are vocal and constant bloggers think you are bright and even correct about "the enemy" but are too controversial to be a serious competitor for the Senatorial race. My personal feelings are that we really missed out the last election when both you and John Eastman and DeVore were not elected. We could have saved this State!
I'll continue to put in my two cents worth when anyone will listen. We really need you to start winning these court cases to save America.
Good luck Orly.

Women's federated speaker recommendation

Shirley, per our conversation today at Canoga Park-West Hills Republican
Womens Federated luncheon, I am sending you the email of Senate candidate Orly Taitz for the purpose of booking her as a speaker at one of our monthly meetings.

orly_taitz@gmail.com

Orly recently let her supporters know this:

"Results of the latest Rasmussen-Pulse poll, show me leading the challenge to Feinstein for the senate race in CA."

I am excited about the possibility of seeing Orly Taitz at one of our meetings—thanks for the consideration.

I believe that she will be speaking at our Laguna Niguel attorney Orly Taitz, known nationwide for efforts to prove President Barack Obama is not a natural-born citizen, is leading the Republican field in the reelection bid of U.S. Sen. Dianne Feinstein, D-Calif., according to a poll by another Republican in the race.

Taitz is the best known of the candidates, thanks to her numerous suits against Obama, and polls at 19 percent among Republican voters, according to the poll by Los Angeles businessman Al Ramirez. Ramirez places second at 15 percent. Danville autism advocate Elizabeth Emken received the state GOP's endorsement on Sunday but was tied for last place at 2 percent in the Ramirez poll.

The fact of the matter, though, is that few have heard of most of the candidates – 38 percent responded they didn't know who they'd vote for if the election were held today. And Ramirez' Latino surname, the only one on the list, may have helped him.

Corrupt GOP machine is going against the GOP voters. See what they just gave to a lobbyist Emken a candidate, who got only 1% of the vote, the lowest number of votes according to polls. Please, help me stop this undemocratic, corrupt GOP machine demand that GOP allocates the funds according to polling or according to the primary results

To: California GOP Leaders
From: Tim Clark, Lead Strategist, Emken for U.S. Senate
RE: What the California Republican Party Endorsement Means for Emken
Date: March 14, 2012

On Sunday, Elizabeth Emken earned the official endorsement of the California Republican Party. She is the first statewide candidate to receive this endorsement under the open primary.

Republican Party Executive Director Brent Lowder said it best, “This is the equivalent of winning the primary under the old system.”

WHAT THE ENDORSEMENT MEANS

As the official Republican candidate, Emken enjoys all of the benefits of the Republican Party nominee, including:
Featured on millions of GOP mail pieces scheduled for the June election.

Access to Party volunteers, door hangers, ground operations, and other structure.
Fundraising through a "Joint Fundraising Committee" with the California Republican Party.
Active support from Party leadership, including House Majority Whip Kevin McCarthy, Chairman Tom Del Beccaro and many others.
Special feature in all County sample ballots as the "official Republican candidate."

STRONG TOP-OF-THE TICKET STRATEGY

In fact, this endorsement, which was earned in an open-format CRP board meeting in Burbank last Sunday, secures the Republican nomination for Emken. That's good news considering that California Republicans need a strong top-of-the-ticket to ensure victory in the Senate race as well as California's dozen or so critical U.S. House contests. We look forward to your continued support as we now move past the primary and focus on preparing for the November election.

It's disgusting how scared people have become even when the truth is staring them in the face, stevem I've started researching wealthy philanthropist heavyweights to aid Orly in her brave mission to get to the bottom of Obama's dirty truth!

Why isn't article2pac, ORYR and others claiming to promote eligibility, not writing about the fact that I am leading the GOP race for the US senate in the most populated state?

This Executive Order was posted on the White House .gov website yesterday.

Better twitter and promote this one far and wide...it's a wide ranging order giving many powers to cabinet level officials for "Preparedness", even before any war is declared.

Orly Taitz

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Orly Taitz (born August 30, 1962) is an American dentist, lawyer,^[7] former real estate agent,^{[8][9]} and leading figure in the "birther" movement, which challenges whether Barack Obama is a natural-born citizen eligible to serve as President of the United States. She also promotes a number of other allegations both related and unrelated to Obama, and has initiated a number of lawsuits on behalf of the "birther" movement.

Early life and emigration

Orly Taitz was born to a Jewish family in Chişinău, Moldavian SSR in the Soviet Union (present day Moldova).^[6] Both of her parents were science teachers.^[10] In 1981, Orly immigrated to Israel,^[1] where she obtained a dentistry degree at Hebrew University.^[1] In 1987, she met Yosef Taitz who proposed four months later. Orly immigrated to the United States in May 1987, marrying the Latvian-born^[10] Yosef in Las Vegas, Nevada.^[6] Taitz became a naturalized United States citizen in 1992.^[2] She received her law degree from Taft Law School^{[10][11]} and was admitted to practice law in California in December 2002.^[12]

Taitz lives in Laguna Niguel, California^[13] and owns dental practices in nearby Mission Viejo and Rancho Santa Margarita.^[6] She has three sons,^[6] holds a second degree black belt in Taekwondo, and speaks five languages: English, Hebrew, Romanian, Russian and Spanish.^{[14][15]}

Before her national news exposure, Taitz was quoted in The Orange County Register in 2006 supporting Israeli military actions against Hamas and Hezbollah,^[16] and downplaying the impact of the espionage trial of two American Israel Public Affairs Committee staffers^[17] (charges against both were subsequently dropped).^[18] Taitz has also said that she lost relatives in the Holocaust and that her grandmother witnessed the Kishinev pogrom.^{[14][19]}

Activities

Taitz's claims regarding Barack Obama

Main article: Barack Obama citizenship conspiracy theories

Taitz alleges that President Obama is not a natural-born citizen of the United States and is therefore ineligible to serve as President. She claims he was born in Kenya and that he falsified his Selective Service papers and his application to the Illinois bar.^[20] "I believe [Obama] is the most dangerous thing one can imagine, in that he represents radical communism and radical Islam: He was born and raised in radical Islam, all of his associations are with radical Islam, and he was groomed in the environment of the dirty Chicago mafia. Can there be anything scarier than that?"^[21]

Taitz has made other Obama-related claims, including:

- A number of homosexuals from Obama's former church have died mysteriously.
- Obama has dozens of Social Security numbers, and his passport is inaccurate. Taitz claims that a person who was cooperating with the FBI in connection with Obama's passport died mysteriously, "shot in the head".
- A Kenyan birth certificate with the name "Barack Obama" is authentic.
- Obama's first act as President was to donate money to Hamas, which she claims will be used to build Qassam rockets.
- Obama, or someone connected to him, has made threats to Taitz's life and vandalized her car.^[19]
- Obama is having the Federal Emergency Management Agency build internment camps for "Anti-Obama dissidents".^[14]
- Osama bin Laden was killed years ago, with his body kept on ice, and the announcement of his death was timed to divert attention from an upcoming court case she is litigating challenging Obama's citizenship.^[22]

Taitz's other claims

Taitz has also supported a number of other theories not directly related to Obama, including:

- Goldman Sachs runs the United States Treasury.^[21]
- Baxter International has developed a bird flu vaccine that kills people.^[21]
- Representative Alcee Hastings and the House of Representatives are planning to build at least six labor camps.^[21]
- Hugo Chávez owns the software that runs American voting machines,^[19]
- FactCheck is untrustworthy because of its links to the Annenberg Foundation.^[19]

Taitz has also advocated numerous Internet-related theories, including PayPal attacks, the deletion of her Wikipedia entry, and Google's flagging her webpage as an attack site and suppressing search results for her name.^[19]

Legal actions

Keyes v. Bowen

In November 2008, Taitz filed a lawsuit on behalf of independent presidential candidate Alan Keyes, suing California's secretary of state for allegedly failing to ascertain Obama's eligibility for president before placing him on the ballot.^[1] The case was dismissed on May 4, 2009.^[23] A California Court of Appeal affirmed the dismissal on October 25, 2010;^[24] the Supreme Court of California declined, without comment, to review the case on February 2, 2011;^[25] and the U.S. Supreme Court declined, without comment, to review the case on October 3, 2011.^[26] Taitz was not counsel of record for the appeals.

Lightfoot v. Bowen

Taitz filed an emergency petition in the California Supreme Court in 2008 on behalf of Libertarian vice presidential candidate Gail Lightfoot to stop the certification of California's 2008 election results because of the challenge to Obama's eligibility.^[27] The California Supreme Court denied the petition, and the U.S. Supreme Court declined to hear the case.^[1]

Barnett v. Obama

Taitz filed a lawsuit on behalf of Pamela Barnett, Alan Keyes, other candidates in the 2008 federal elections, several military personnel, and some legislators from various states alleging that Obama is ineligible to be president. On October 29, 2009, U.S. District Court Judge David O. Carter dismissed the lawsuit.^{[28][29]} The dismissal criticized Taitz's legal abilities, stated her behavior was "unethical", and suggested that Taitz "may have suborned perjury".^{[29][30][31]} On December 22, 2011, the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit affirmed the dismissal.^{[32][33]}

Cook v. Good

Taitz represented Stefan F. Cook, a Major in the United States Army Reserve, who challenged orders implementing his voluntary deployment to Afghanistan because of his claim that Obama is not a legitimate president. The case was dismissed when the Army Reserve revoked his order to deploy.^[34] Taitz filed an appeal in the Eleventh Circuit, which was dismissed on November 24, 2009, due to a failure to prosecute the appeal.^[35]

Rhodes v. MacDonald

In September 2009, Taitz was retained by Captain Connie Rhodes, a U.S. Army physician. Rhodes sought a restraining order to prevent her forthcoming deployment to Iraq. In the request for a restraining order, Taitz argued the deployment order was illegal since Obama was illegally serving as President. On September 16, federal judge Clay D. Land rejected the motion and denounced it as frivolous. In his opinion, the judge noted that Rhodes had not previously raised any objections to orders she had received from Obama since he had been sworn in. He noted that while she seemed to have "conscientious objections" to taking orders from Obama, she did not seem to object to serving under him "as long as she is permitted to remain on American soil". Land then upbraided Taitz for using military officers as pawns to further her claims that Obama was not qualified to be President. He also expressed astonishment at Taitz's apparent misunderstanding of American judicial fundamentals, saying that she was trying to make Obama " 'prove his innocence' to 'charges' that are based upon conjecture and speculation".^[36]

Within hours of Land's decision, Taitz told the news site Talking Points Memo that she felt Land's refusal to hear her case was an act of treason.^[37] Two days later, she filed a motion to stay Rhodes' deployment pending rehearing of the dismissal order. She repeated her treason allegations against Land and made several other intemperate statements, including claims that Land was aiding and abetting purported aspirations of "dictatorship" by Obama.^[38] Land rejected the motion as frivolous and ordered her to show cause why she should not be fined $10,000 for abuse of judicial process.^[39]

A few hours later, a letter bearing Rhodes's signature arrived, stating that Taitz filed the motion without her knowledge or consent, asking Land to remove Taitz as her attorney of record in the case, and stating that it was her "plan to file a complaint with the California State Bar due to [Taitz's] reprehensible and unprofessional actions".^[40] On September 26, 2009, Taitz filed a motion with the court seeking to withdraw as counsel for Rhodes, so she could divulge in court "privileged attorney-client communications" since the dismissed Rhodes case "is now a quasi-criminal prosecution of the undersigned attorney, for the purpose of punishment".^[41]

Attorney misconduct

On October 13, 2009, Judge Clay Land ordered "Counsel Orly Taitz ... to pay $20,000 to the United States, through the Middle District of Georgia Clerk's Office, within thirty days of the date of this Order as a sanction for her misconduct in violation of Rule 11 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure." Land's decision stated:

The Court finds that counsel's conduct was willful and not merely negligent. It demonstrates bad faith on her part. As an attorney, she is deemed to have known better. She owed a duty to follow the rules and to respect the Court. Counsel's pattern of conduct conclusively establishes that she did not mistakenly violate a provision of law. She knowingly violated Rule 11. Her response to the Court's show cause order is breathtaking in its arrogance and borders on delusional. She expresses no contrition or regret regarding her misconduct. To the contrary, she continues her baseless attacks on the Court.^[42]

Upon learning of Land's ruling, Taitz said she would appeal the sanction, declaring that Judge Land was "scared to go against the regime" of the "oppressive" Obama administration, and that the sanction was an attempt to "intimidate" her.^[43] On March 15, 2010, the Eleventh Circuit affirmed the sanctions against Taitz, ordering her to pay the $20,000 fine.^[44]

In July 2010, Taitz applied to the U.S. Supreme Court to stay the enforcement of sanctions, arguing that "allowing sanctions by judge Land to stand, will signify beginning of tyranny in the United States of America and end to the Constitutional Republic which is the foundation of this nation".^[45] On July 8, the application was submitted to Associate Justice Clarence Thomas; on July 15, he denied it.^{[46][47]} Doubting that Justice Thomas signed the denial order, Taitz claimed to have requested of Chief Justice John Roberts that Thomas's signature be presented to her for verification.^[48]

In the meantime, on August 9, the federal government filed an abstract of judgment, a document placing a lien in the amount of $20,000 plus interest on all her real property,^[49] prompting Taitz to say, "I will pay the money, and I will continue fighting," should it happen that her application for stay is ultimately denied and that the Supreme Court consents to her request to authenticate Justice Thomas's signature.^[50] On August 16, after being resubmitted to Associate Justice Samuel Alito, who in turn referred it to the full court, the application for stay was again denied.^{[47][51]} On January 10, 2011, the Court declined, without comment, to hear the case.^[52]

Taitz v. Obama

On January 27, 2010, Taitz, in propria persona, filed a petition for writ of quo warranto. On April 14, 2010, U.S. District Court Chief Judge Royce C. Lamberth dismissed the petition; and, alluding to the novel Don Quixote, he wrote, "The Court is not willing to go tilting at windmills with her."^[53]

Taitz v. Astrue

In February 2011, Taitz filed, in propria persona, a Freedom of Information Act suit against the commissioner of the Social Security Administration, alleging the agency improperly refused to disclose to her information about Obama's social security number. After Taitz repeatedly failed to follow the court rule regarding the redaction of social security numbers in court filings, Chief Judge Lamberth wrote that Taitz "is either toying with the Court or displaying her own stupidity... There is no logical explanation she can provide as to why she is now wasting the Court's time, as well as the staff's time, with these improper redactions."^{[54][55]} On August 30, 2011, the court granted summary judgment in favor of the government, writing "As her numerous filings with the Court demonstrate, plaintiff will stop at nothing to get to the bottom of this alleged conspiracy. Unfortunately for plaintiff, today is not her lucky day."^{[56][57]}

Taitz v. Fuddy

In August 2011, Taitz filed, in propria persona, a suit against the director of the Hawaii Department of Health, seeking to review Obama's "long form" birth certificate.^[58] On October 12, 2011, the Hawaii Circuit Court dismissed Taitz's suit.^[59]

Taitz v. Ruemmler

Taitz sought to compel White House Counsel Kathryn Ruemmler under FOIA to grant access to Obama's "long form" birth certificate.^{[60][61]} On October 17, 2011, Chief Judge Lamberth noted Taitz's "Sisyphean quest" and dismissed the suit.^[62]

2012 New Hampshire primary challenge

In November 2011, Taitz, backed by four New Hampshire state legislators, filed a complaint with the state's Ballot Law Commission challenging Obama's eligibility to compete in the primary election.^[63] As Obama had paid the filing fee and his declaration of candidacy conformed to state law, the Commission unanimously voted to keep Obama on the ballot.^[64] The Commission then denied a request for reconsideration.^[65]

In response, Taitz wrote to William L. O'Brien, the Speaker of the House of the New Hampshire House of Representatives, and demanded the removal of Bill Gardner, New Hampshire's Secretary of State, for "egregious elections fraud, aiding and abetting fraud, forgery and possibly treason." D.J. Bettencourt, House Majority Leader of the New Hampshire House of Representatives, wrote to Taitz and called her actions "unbecoming of any legitimate political dialogue, nevermind one as ridiculous as the continued obsession over President Obama's birth place." Bettencourt added, "I have spoken to the Representatives who were present and expressed to them my strong desire that they immediately disassociate themselves from you and this folly."^[66]

2012 Georgia primary challenge

Five Georgians, including one represented by Taitz, filed challenges with the Georgia Secretary of State, Brian Kemp, regarding Obama's inclusion on the March primary ballot.^[67] Kemp referred the challenges to Deputy Chief Judge Michael Malihi, an administrative law judge, who denied Obama's motion to dismiss them and scheduled a hearing for January 26.^[68]

On January 23, Malihi denied Obama's motion to quash a subpoena issued by Taitz to compel Obama to appear, saying that Obama did not show why he should not be at the hearing or how his testimony would not be helpful.^[69] On January 25, Obama's attorney requested that Kemp halt the proceedings, and indicated that Obama would no longer participate in the litigation pending Kemp's decision.^[70] Kemp denied their request and warned that their non-participation would be "at your own peril".^[71]

Neither Obama nor his attorney appeared at the January 26 hearing. This normally would result in a default order, but the challengers requested Malihi to allow them to go ahead with the hearing and rule on "the merits of their arguments and evidence".^{[72][73]} Taitz called eight witnesses (including herself), and presented seven exhibits in support of her claims that Obama was not a natural-born citizen, has used multiple names, has multiple Social Security numbers, and used a fake birth certificate. Taitz asked Malihi to find Obama in contempt for failing to appear.^{[74][75][76]}

On February 3, Malihi recommended that Obama remain on the ballot. Concerning Taitz's case Malihi wrote: "The Court finds the testimony of the witnesses, as well as the exhibits tendered, to be of little, if any, probative value, and thus wholly insufficient to support plaintiffs' allegations".^{[73][77]} The Drudge Retort described the hearing as, "Empty Table 1, Orly Taitz 0".^[78]

On February 6, Kemp accepted Malihi's recommendation.^[79]

On February 13, Taitz filed for review,^{[80][81]} but on February 15 her application to appear pro hac vice was denied "at this time".^[82]

2012 Alabama primary challenge

A lawsuit filed by an Alabama citizen, Albert Hendershot, in December 2011 alleged Obama's birth certificate was forged and that he was ineligible to be on the Alabama primary ballot.^[83] Taitz agreed to represent Hendershot and sought to enter the case, but it was dismissed before she could make an appearance.^{[84][85]}

2012 Indiana primary challenge

On February 24, Taitz appeared as a witness on the behalf of two residents of Indiana who had filed with the Indiana Election Commission a challenge to Obama's eligibility. The challengers demanded a default judgment against Obama, as neither he nor a representative appeared at the hearing; this motion was unanimously denied by the commission.

Taitz argued that the President's surname was not Obama, that he was not a natural-born citizen, and that he was using a stolen Social Security number. "When Taitz accused the commission of a cover-up, Dan Dumezich, the Merrillville Republican who is chairman of the commission, told her that if she was disrespectful one more time, 'your butt is going to be gone.'"^[86] The challenge was denied.

Political campaigns

California Secretary of State, 2010 Republican primary

In March 2010, Taitz successfully qualified to run for the office of California Secretary of State. At the same time, she unsuccessfully challenged the eligibility of her Republican Party primary opponent, former NFL player Damon Dunn, claiming that he is pretending to be a Republican.^[87] Dunn had registered as a Democrat in the state of Florida in 1999, but that registration had lapsed before he filed for the Republican primary.^{[88][89]}

On May 12, 2010, Pamela Barnett (named plaintiff from Taitz's lawsuit Barnett v. Obama) filed a lawsuit in the Sacramento County Superior Court alleging that Dunn is not eligible to run for Secretary of State.^[90]

Taitz was defeated by Dunn in the June 8 primary by a margin of about three to one,^[91] losing by over 900,000 votes.^[92]

On June 17, 2010, Taitz filed a lawsuit in the Orange County Superior Court contesting the election results, again alleging Dunn's ineligibility.^[93] On March 17, 2011, the judge ruled against Taitz.^[94] On June 8, 2011, Taitz filed a notice of appeal.^[95]

U.S. Senator from California, 2012 nonpartisan blanket primary

Main article: United States Senate election in California, 2012

Taitz is challenging U.S. Senator Dianne Feinstein in 2012, stating, "I think I do have a chance specifically because I do speak Spanish and I speak Hebrew."^[96] In November 2011, Taitz trailed Feinstein by a nearly 2-1 margin.^[97] A Feinstein advisor stated, "If this race plays out as a bunch of unknowns who have no serious funding, Orly Taitz will probably win the primary [along with Feinstein]."^[98] A March 2012 poll by another Republican candidate had Taitz leading the Republican field; 38% of those polled had not decided whom to vote for.^[99]

Activities in Israel

Taitz has also actively promoted her theories in Israel, where she claims that "the vast majority" of the population supports her views.^[14] She has appeared on the Channel 10 nightly news show London and Kirschenbaum, was the subject of a feature on Channel 1 TV, and filmed a video for the website Arutz 7. Israel's Russian language media, such as Channel 9 and Vesti, the country's largest Russian-language newspaper, have also covered Taitz.^[14]

In the media

Taitz received media attention in connection with Obama eligibility questions in late 2008.^[100] She was interviewed by co-hosts David Shuster and Tamron Hall on MSNBC on August 3, 2009.^[11] Various media outlets described her appearance on the network as an "implosion",^{[11][101]} while Taitz asserted that Shuster, who is Jewish, was a "brownshirt", a charge she would repeat in a phone interview the following week.^[19]

Fox News commentator Bill O'Reilly called Taitz a "nut". In response, she and pastor James David Manning organized a protest outside Fox News headquarters in New York City in November, 2009, which drew an estimated 15 to 20 attendees.^[102] In 2010, artist Dan Lacey produced a widely discussed painting of a nude Orly Taitz after giving birth to an object resembling a pancake; Taitz herself expressed outrage at the painting, and urged Lacey to reveal the identity of his sponsor. Lacey subsequently jokingly "revealed" that he had been funded by George Soros.^{[103][104]}

In April 2011, Lawrence O'Donnell invited Taitz on MSNBC so that she could address Obama's long form birth certificate, which had been released the day before. When Taitz only wanted to talk about Obama's alleged Selective Service papers and refused to comment on his birth certificate, O'Donnell kicked her off the show, stating: "Look, she's crazy. I invited a crazy person on this show to see if the crazy person...could say something responsive, something human, to the document that was released today...and she wants to play with all of her other kid's toys."^[105]
